The Making Of The Shetland Landscape:

The Making of the Shetland Landscape Susan A. Knox, 1985 Studies of Shetland's economy tend to focus on its maritime aspects while the complementary agricultural system receives little direct attention. The traditional resources of Shetland are more evenly balanced between land and sea than those of either Faroe or Orkney. This title seeks to give the agriculture of Shetland the weight it merits. Landscapes of Protest in the Scottish Highlands after 1914 Iain J.M. Robertson, 2016-04-15 In November 1918 the implementation of agrarian change in the Scottish Highlands threatened another wave of unemployment and eviction for the land working population which led to widespread and varied social protest. Those who had been away on war service and their families faced returning to exactly the same social and economic conditions in the Scottish Highlands they had hoped they had left behind in the struggle to make a land fit for heroes. Widespread and varied social protest rapidly followed. It argues that previously there has been a failure to capture fully the geography, chronology, typology and rate of occurrence of these events. The book not only offers new insights and a greater understanding of what was happening in the Highlands in this period but illustrates how a range of forms of protest were used which demand attention not least for the fact that these events, unlike most of the earlier Land Wars period, were successful. It focuses on individual case studies in order to engage more convincingly with an important evidential base that of popular memory of land disturbances and to adopt a frame and lens through which to explore the fluid and contingent nature of protest performances. Based upon the belief that in the study of landscapes of social protest the old shibboleth of space as solely passive setting and symbolic register is no longer tenable is paid here to nature culture interactions to vernacular ecological b

The Trials of Mary Johnsdaughter Christine De Luca, 2022-06-15 A cold sweat had spread over Mary as she listened. What she was hearing was sounding ever more like a premonition: adultery was nearly as bad as murder. Shetland 1773 a land of hand to mouth living and tight community ties overshadowed by the ever watchful eye of the kirk an institution run by auld men for auld men. In this fictionalised retelling of historical events young Waas lass Mary Johnsdaughter stands accused of having sinned in the eyes of the church after the Bachelor a ship bursting with emigrants seeking new lives in North Carolina is left stranded.

upon Shetland's shores Will she survive the humiliation Will she become an outcast Will one moment cost her everything A tale of Shetland folk knit out of Shetlandic voices and real parish records The Trials of Mary Johnsdaughter pits the bonds of friends and family against the grip of the kirk Only one thing is clear then as now Hit's no aesy livin in a peerie place
