The Maneaters Of Tsavo:

The Man Eaters of Tsavo John Henry Patterson, Frederick Courtney Selous, 2010-01-01 The story is familiar to movie fans the horrifying tale of the 1907 book The Man Eaters of Tsavo has been retold by Hollywood many times most recently in the 1996 film The Ghost and the Darkness but hearing it directly from the source remains a thrill Patterson a natural storyteller immerses us in the horror of the workers fear and his own attempts to track the beast which eventually would kill 140 people before Patterson took them out This real life escapade will rivet fans of adventure fiction and nonfiction alike Anglo Irish hunter JOHN HENRY PATTERSON 1867 1947 was an officer in the British army when he was commissioned by the British East Africa Company to oversee the construction of a railway bridge in Kenya Just after he arrived in Africa a pair of rogue male lions animals that do not typically attack humans began preying on the railroad workers killing them viciously and consuming their corpses

The Man-Eaters of Tsavo John Henry Patterson, 2022-05-29 In The Man Eaters of Tsavo John Henry Patterson vividly recounts his harrowing experiences as a chief engineer working on the Kenya Uganda railway in the late 19th century This work of non fiction blends elements of adventure and horror as it chronicles the true story of a pair of maneless lions that terrorized his construction crew resulting in numerous fatalities Patterson s engaging narrative style rich in detailed observations and psychological insight serves to illuminate the complex relationship between humans and wildlife in colonial Africa Moreover the book emerges from the larger context of European imperialism highlighting the perils faced by those who sought to exert control over the untamed landscapes of Africa John Henry Patterson born in 1867 was not only an engineer but also a passionate naturalist and explorer His encounters with the lions and the subsequent investigation into their behavior reflect his keen understanding of both the natural world and human vulnerability Patterson s experiences led him to question the assumptions of dominance held by colonial powers revealing the underlying tensions of his time This riveting account combines elements of terror and fascination making The Man Eaters of Tsavo a compelling read for anyone intrigued by wildlife colonial history or psychological suspense Patterson s meticulous documentation provides a nuanced perspective on the nature of fear and survival ensuring that this striking tale remains relevant and engaging for modern audiences

The Man Eaters of Tsavo J. H. Patterson,2018-10-12 It was towards noon on March 1 1898 that I first found myself entering the narrow and somewhat dangerous harbour of Mombasa on the east coast of Africa The town lies on an island of the same name separated from the mainland only by a very narrow channel which forms the harbour and as our vessel steamed slowly in close under the quaint old Portuguese fortress built over three hundred years ago I was much struck with the strange beauty of the view which gradually opened out before me Contrary to my anticipation everything looked fresh and green and an oriental glamour of enchantment seemed to hang over the island The old town was bathed in brilliant sunshine and reflected itself lazily on the motionless sea its flat roofs and dazzlingly white walls peeped out dreamily between waving palms and lofty cocoanuts huge baobabs and spreading mango trees and the darker background of well wooded hills and slopes on the mainland formed a very effective setting to a beautiful and to me unexpected picture

The Man-Eaters of Tsavo and Other East African Adventures J. H. Patterson,J H Patterson D S O,2016-03-27 The Tsavo Man Eaters were a pair of notorious man eating Tsavo lions responsible for the deaths of a number of construction workers on the Kenya Uganda Railway from March through December 1898 Illustrated In March 1898 the British started building a railway bridge over the Tsavo River in Kenya The project was led by Lt Col John Henry Patterson During the next nine months of construction two maneless male Tsavo lions stalked the campsite dragging Indian workers from their tents at night and devouring them Crews tried to scare off the lions and built campfires and bomas or thorn fences around their camp for protection to keep the man eaters out to no avail the lions leaped over or crawled through the thorn fences After the new attacks hundreds of workers fled from Tsavo halting construction on the bridge Patterson set traps and tried several times to ambush the lions at night from a tree After repeated unsuccessful attempts he shot the first lion on 9 December 1898 Twenty days later the second lion was found and killed The first lion killed measured nine feet eight inches from nose to tip of tail It took eight men to carry the carcass back to camp The construction crew returned and finished the bridge in February 1899 The exact number of people killed by the lions is unclear Patterson gave several figures overall claiming that there were 135 victims Patterson writes in his account that he wounded the first lion with one bullet from a high caliber rifle This shot struck the lion in its back leg but it escaped Later it returned at night and began stalking Patterson as he tried to hunt it He shot it through the shoulder penetrating its heart with a more powerful rifle and found it lying dead the next morning not far from his platform The second lion was shot at most nine times five with the same rifle three with a third and once with a fourth rifle The first was fired from atop a scaffolding Patterson had built near goat kills done by the lion Two both from the second rifle were shot into it eleven days later as the lion was stalking Patterson and trying to flee When they had found the lion the next day thereafter Patterson shot it three more times with the same rifle severely crippling it and shot it three times with the third rifle twice in the chest and once in the head which killed it He claimed it died gnawing on a fallen tree branch still trying to reach him After 25 years as Patterson's floor rugs the lions skins were sold to the Chicago Field Museum in 1924 for a sum of 5 000 The lions skins arrived at the museum in very poor condition The lions were then reconstructed and are now on permanent display along with the original skulls
