Supernatural Overtones:

Supernatural Overtones Ron Padgett, Clark Coolidge, 1990 Of this first edition of 500 copies printed June 29 1990 in Great Barrington Massachusetts twenty six are lettered A Z and signed by the authors Leaf 50 On Kubrick James Naremore, 2019-07-25 On Kubrick provides an illuminating critical account of the films of Stanley Kubrick from his earliest feature Fear and Desire 1953 to the posthumously produced A.I. Artificial Intelligence Steven Spielberg 2001 The book offers provocative analysis of each of Kubrick's films together with new information about their production histories and cultural contexts Its ultimate aim is to provide a concise yet thorough discussion that will be useful as both an academic text and a trade publication James Naremore argues that in several respects Kubrick was one of the cinema's last modernists his taste and sensibility were shaped by the artistic culture of New York in the 1950s he became a celebrated auteur who forged a distinctive style he used art cinema conventions in commercial productions he challenged censorship regulations and throughout his career he was preoccupied with one of the central themes of modernist art the conflict between rationality and its ever present shadow the unconscious War and science are key concerns in Kubrick's oeuvre and his work has a hyper masculine quality Yet no director has more relentlessly emphasized the absurdity of combat as in Paths of Glory 1957 and Full Metal Jacket 1987 the failure of scientific reasoning as in 2001 1968 and the fascistic impulses in masculine sexuality as in Dr Strangelove 1964 and Eyes Wide Shut 1999 The book also argues that while Kubrick was a voracious intellectual and a life long autodidact the fascination of his work has less to do with the ideas it espouses than with the emotions it evokes Often described as cool or cold Kubrick is best understood as a skillful practitioner of what might be called the aesthetics of the grotesque he employs extreme forms of caricature and black comedy to create disgusting frightening yet also laughable images of the human body creating a sense of unease that leaves viewers unsure of how to react Frames of Resistance

Cordova, 2025-04-04 While the strength of contemporary Latin American cinema is recognized worldwide less is known of the cinema of Indigenous communities in the region a territorial expanse known as Abya Yala Even so and even as these Indigenous filmmakers face ongoing challenges including persecution state violence and a lack of infrastructure or funding they have still managed to flourish over the past four decades using cinema as a powerful tool for promoting advocacy and fostering self determination How do these filmmakers disrupt foundational narratives about their communities and how does their cinema articulate Indigenous knowledges or provoke a rethinking of society history and planetary wellness Frames of Resistance attempts to answer these questions as it counters the perception of Indigenous cinema in Latin America as an isolated and marginal practice Instead it positions this cinema as a sophisticated expression of Indigenous worldviews while delivering a comprehensive look at its origins trends and regional differences Amalia I. C. rdova Hidalgo examines how Indigenous filmmakers make their cultural vitality visible on the screen as she explores the development of collectives analyzes select works and uncovers the links between these filmmakers and global cinema She foregrounds first person accounts of this movement through new translations of excerpts from these films as well as the speeches interviews and pronouncements by filmmakers at live events The result is a book that builds upon Indigenous principles of organization and reciprocal ways of being with proposals for teaching practices circulating these films and ensuring long term access to this important body of work
