mixture of leniency and firmness to be shown in the wake of the aborted revolt of slaves led by the blacksmith Gabriel. Arriving in Washington in November Jefferson reports that the election is the only thing of which any thing is said here. He is aware of Alexander Hamilton's efforts to undermine John Adams and of desires by some Federalists to give interim executive powers to a president pro tem of the Senate. But the Republicans have made no provision to prevent the tie of electoral votes between Jefferson and Aaron Burr. Jefferson calls Burr's conduct honorable, decisive, before prospects of intrigue arise as the nation awaits the decision of the House of Representatives. As the volume closes the election is still unresolved after six long days of balloting by the House.

The Papers of Thomas Jefferson, Volume 12 Thomas Jefferson, 2018-06-05 Volumes 11 and 12 cover the period from January 1787 through March 1788 and deal with Jefferson's stay in France as American Minister there. This is a rich period of personal correspondence and important documents revealing particularly Jefferson's interest in agriculture and architecture, his extended trade negotiations, his reports on the adoption of the U.S. Constitution and his skilled efforts to establish friendly relations between Europe and his own nation.

The Papers of Thomas Jefferson, Volume 28 Thomas Jefferson, 2018-06-05 This volume brings Jefferson into retirement after his tenure as Secretary of State and returns him to private life at Monticello. He professes his desire to be free of public responsibilities and live the life of a farmer, spending his time tending to his estates. Turning his attention to the improvement of his farms and finances, Jefferson surveys his fields, experiments with crop rotation and establishes a nailery on Mulberry Row. He embarks upon an ambitious plan to renovate Monticello, a long-term task that will eventually transform his residence. Although Jefferson is distant from Philadelphia, the seat of the federal government, he is not completely divorced from the politics of the day. His friends, especially James Madison, with whom he exchanges almost sixty letters in the period covered by this volume, keep him fully informed about the efforts of Republican county and town meetings, the Virginia General Assembly, Congress, and the press to counter Federalist policies. An emerging Republican opposition is taking shape in response to the Jay Treaty, and Jefferson is keenly interested in its progress. Although in June 1795 he claims to have proscribed newspapers from Monticello, in fact he never entirely cuts himself off from the world. At the end of that year he takes pains to ensure that he will have two full sets of Benjamin Franklin Bache's Aurora, the influential Republican newspaper, one set to be held in Philadelphia for binding and one to be sent directly to Monticello.
