The Paston Papers:

Paston Letters and Papers of the Fifteenth Century Norman Davis, Richard Beadle, Colin Richmond, 2004 The Paston family papers have long been consulted for their information about social history and politics in the fifteenth century both within East Anglia and also nationally. Parts I and II of Paston Letters and Papers of the Fifteenth Century edited by Norman Davis were originally published by the Clarendon Press in 1971 and 1976 and were reissued with corrections by EETS in 2004. Part III completes the edition. It contains the texts of 120 additional letters and papers, many of them relating to Sir John Fastolf and his circle. These texts are previously unprinted or printed only in part; some only came to light after the publication of Parts I and II. The texts have been edited according to the principles established by Norman Davis and are accompanied by an Introduction and Bibliography, as well as a consolidated index to all three parts of the edition, a glossary to the entire edition, a concordance of the principal editions and original sources, and a working chronology of the documents. Richard Beadle is Reader in English Literature and Historical Bibliography at the University of Cambridge. Colin Richmond is Emeritus Professor of Medieval History at the University of Keele. Paston Letters and Papers of the 15th Century Paston family, 1976. Papers on the Authenticity of the Paston Letters, 1866. Paston Letters and Papers of the 15th Century Paston family, 1971. Paston Letters and Papers of the Fifteenth Century, Part I Paston Family, 1993.

Medieval Women's Writing Diane Watt, 2007-10-22. Medieval Women's Writing is a major new contribution to our understanding of women's writing in England 1100-1500. The most comprehensive account to date, it includes writings in Latin and French as well as English, and works for as well as by women. Marie de France, Clemence of Barking, Julian of Norwich, Margery Kempe and the Paston women are discussed alongside the Old English lives of women saints. The Life of Christina of Markyate, the St Albans Psalter and the legends of women saints by Osbern Bokenham. Medieval Women's Writing addresses these key questions: Who were the first women authors in the English canon? What do we mean by women's writing in the Middle Ages? What do we mean by authorship? How can studying medieval writing contribute to our understanding of women's literary history? Diane Watt argues that female patrons, audiences, readers and even subjects contributed to the production of texts and their meanings, whether written by men or women. Only an understanding of textual production as collaborative enables us to grasp fully women's engagement with literary culture. This radical rethinking of early women's literary history has major implications for all scholars working on medieval literature, on ideas of authorship and on women's writing in later periods. The book will become standard reading for all students of these debates.

Colin Richmond,2002-05-16 The Paston family have long been famous for the large collection of letters and papers which bear their name However only recently have the Paston Letters been used systematically by historians of fifteenth century England they are both attractive to read and fiendishly difficult to use as source material for the historian This the second volume in Colin Richmond s individual and compelling study of the Pastons describes the bitter disputes over the will of Sir John Fastolf d

1459 which dogged the family for many years and which hold a wider significance for the law English country society and the complex politics of the fifteenth century Professor Richmond uses his mastery of the Paston documents to illuminate many obscurities surrounding the will and at the same time creates an insightful and sympathetic picture of this fascinating often troubled family

Binomials in Late Middle English to Early Modern English Akinobu Tani, 2025-03-18 This book charts the development of style and lexicon in the English language from Late Middle English to Early Modern English through the analysis of binomials across a wide range of texts and genres. The volume elucidates the forms, functions and origins of binomials otherwise understood as word pairs such as safe and sound as they manifest in representative prose texts from the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries and in the Helsinki Corpus from the fourteenth through to the early eighteenth centuries. The book begins with cross-comparative analyses of binomials examining their frequency, etymological makeup and repetition in prose texts including Chaucer and Malory to explore the stylistic characteristics of each text toward zooming out to examine their development in texts across different genres from political to philosophical to legal texts in the Helsinki Corpus. In charting binomial development over both time and text type the volume offers readers a unique historical perspective into the evolution of phraseology from Late Middle English through to Early Modern English and in turn a solid foundation for future research on lexical development in the English language. This book will be of interest to scholars in English historical linguistics, English stylistics, English corpus linguistics and English lexicology.
