The Peak District At War:

The Peak District at War Peter Clowes, 2001 Cambridgeshire at War 1939-45 Glynis Cooper, 2020-03-20 Few could believe that within twenty years of the war to end all wars being won the world was once again at war Veterans of the Great War feared going through the same thing again and even worse many knew that this time their children would also be involved in the fighting What had all the sacrifice been about Cambridgeshire the city of Cambridge and the University of Cambridge were badly hit by the Great War with many lives lost families ripped apart and a way of life that had changed forever Building and economic recovery had been hindered by the Great Depression The county was not ready to face another war nor for the problems of warfare in the air Yet somehow the county the city and the university all found the strength to unite against the enemy once more and ensure that Germany would never win the war The book chronicles life on the Home Front during the Second World War which itself reached into every home and affected every citizen changing the life and the face of the county It is also a timely reminder of the difficulties hardships restrictions and morale faced by the city as the war dragged on and how the local community overcame the odds that were stacked against them War & Peat Ian D. Rotherham, Christine Handley, 2014 The themes of this book were addressed at a major international conference in 2013 and the expanded papers are presented here as chapters with an introduction by Ian D Rotherham The papers are grouped around several themes Military Landscapes Battles and Battlefields The Impacts of Conflict and War War and Non military Campaigns As we approach the centenary of the Great War WW1 matters of landscape terrain resources and strategies become increasingly topical and relevant The relationships of people and landscapes of economies and conflicts and ecology and history are complex and multi faceted For peatlands including bogs fens moors and heaths the interactions of people and nature in relation to history and conflicts are both significant and surprising The English Civil War Charles J Esdaile, 2024-08-30 Cavaliers and Roundheads are figures who appear in hundreds of English ghost stories In this innovative account Charles Esdaile argues that such tales are in reality folk memories of an episode of English history that was second only to the Black Death in terms of individual and collective suffering alike and further that they reveal important truths about the way in which the conflict was represented it is no surprise then to find that spectral Cavaliers are often romantic figures and revenant Roundheads grim ones full of menace Yet the book is no mere catalogue On the contrary rather than being discussed in a vacuum the tales of haunting are rather set within a detailed regional history of the conflicts of 1642 1651 of a sort that has never yet been attempted but is for all that badly needed The Great War Herbert Wrigley Wilson, Sir John Alexander Hammerton, 1916 Our Country in War and Relations with All Nations Murat Halstead, 1898
