Thandika Mkandawire, Charles Chukwuma Soludo, 1998 Our Continent Our Future presents the emerging African perspective on this complex issue The authors use as background their own extensive experience and a collection of 30 individual studies 25 of which were from African economists to summarize this African perspective and articulate a path for the future They underscore the need to be sensitive to each country's unique history and current condition They argue for a broader policy agenda and for a much more active role for the state within what is largely a market economy Finally they stress that Africa must and can compete in an increasingly globalized world and perhaps most importantly that Africans must assume the leading role in defining the continent's development agenda

Hasa Mfaume Mlawa,Reginald Herbold Green,1998 As a contribution to the structural adjustment debate this study sets out a series of important factual judgemental normative and contextual issues relevant for understanding and explaining past performance and experience of Structural Adjustment in Africa It is a product of ten studies from the Institute of Development Studies in which thirteen sub Saharan countries participated The contributors review the experience of a number of sub Saharan African countries in designing and executing stabilization and adjustment programmes during the 1970s and 1980s The eight parts include the macro framework sectoral issues politics and governance the World Bank experience the way forward and country reports Structural Adjustment, Reconstruction and Development in Africa

Kempe Ronald Hope,2020-04-03 First published in 1997 this volume is intended to make a contribution to both the literature and the contentious debate on the relationship between structural adjustment and reconstruction and development in Africa as seen from the multidisciplinary perspective of academics and practitioners working in Africa on African development problems and issues The implementation of structural adjustment in Africa has spawned a considerable and still on going debate with vociferous advocates on both sides of the issue particularly with respect to the efficacy of structural adjustment programmes SAPs as an antidote to Africa's development crisis This book contributes to that debate with a rich mixture of analytical views and ideas covering a wide range of countries and sectors on the role and impact of structural adjustment programmes on the process of reconstruction and development in Africa Structural Adjustment and the Crisis in Africa

David Kennett,Tukumbi Lumumba-Kasongo,1992 This collection of six essays by leading African authorities provides an evaluation of the impact of the structural adjustment programmes of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund on Sub Saharan Africa and the alternative avenues for resolving the continent's economic and political crisis The Political Dimension of Structural Adjustment Programmes in Sub-Saharan Africa

Akilagpa Sawyerr,1990 A Future for Africa Bade Onimode,2025-03-03 First published in 1992 A Future for Africa looks at the crises plaguing the Africa's societies and economies and argues convincingly that the problems are not insuperable but that though their causes are largely external the only long term solutions rest in African hands In this book the author shows how the adjustment programmes imposed on many African countries by the World Bank and the IMF have compounded the disastrous impact of foreign debt trade restrictions and falling export prices Real development will only be achieved he maintains by returning control of Africa's abundant resources to its people and by ensuring greater democracy and accountability in African political structures

Structural Adjustment & the African Farmer Alex Duncan,John Howell,1992 This book traces the impact of structural adjustment policies upon the incomes and welfare of Africa's peasant farmers who currently operate at very low levels of productivity of both land and labour and are confronted with low household income and inadequate food security A common method has been applied across five countries Analyses have been made of the links between national economic policies and the various markets in which the smallholders operate and the services and infrastructures which influence their productive capacities There are differences in the resource base and the level of ecological deterioration in export opportunities in physical infrastructure and in particular in the depth and nature of economic policy reforms The team have recognised the important differences between these five countries and overcome the formidable problems of collecting agricultural data in Africa The book provides firm evidence of the impact both positive and negative of structural adjustment The editors argue for a more targeted project specific approach to small farmer development This complements the current donor interest in policy related aid support     The Impact of Structural Adjustment on the Population of Africa Aderanti Adepoju,1993
