

Editorial: An Introduction

Journal of Aging Studies is at the forefront of the movement toward improving the lives of older adults. The development of the field reflects a shift in emphasis from a biomedical and gerontological focus to a more holistic, strengths-based approach that emphasizes the needs of older adults. The field has moved away from a biomedical perspective that focused on disease and disability, toward a more holistic view of aging that emphasizes the strengths and resources of older adults. This shift in focus has led to a more positive view of aging, one that emphasizes the potential of older adults to contribute to society and to their communities. This shift in focus has also led to a more positive view of aging, one that emphasizes the potential of older adults to contribute to society and to their communities. This shift in focus has also led to a more positive view of aging, one that emphasizes the potential of older adults to contribute to society and to their communities.
