The Cherokees

Sir Clements Robert Markham

The Cherokees:

The Cherokees Grace Steele Woodward, 1963 Of the Five Civilized Tribes of Indians the Cherokees were early recognized as the greatest and the most civilized Indeed between 1540 and 1906 they reached a higher peak of civilization than any other North American Indian tribe They invented a syllabary and developed an intricate government including a system of courts of law They published their own newspaper in both Cherokee and English and became noted as orators and statesmen At the beginning the Cherokees conquest of civilization was agonizingly slow and uncertain Warlords of the southern Appalachian Highlands they were loath to expend their energies elsewhere In the words of a British officer They are like the Devil s pigg they will neither lead nor drive But led or driven the warlike and willful Cherokees lingering in the Stone Age by choice at the turn of the eighteenth century were forced by circumstances to transfer their concentration on war to problems posed by the white man To cope with these unwelcome problems they had to turn from the conquests of war to the conquest of civilization
