was the noblest and seemliest of them Twas I was the goodliest of them in bounty and gift giving in riches and treasures Twas I was best of them in battle and strife and combat Twas I that had fifteen hundred royal mercenaries of the sons of aliens exiled from their own land and as many more of the sons of freemen of the land And there were ten men with every one of these hirelings and nine men with every hireling and eight men with every hireling and seven men with every hireling and six men with every hireling and five men with every hireling and four men with every hireling and three men with every hireling and two men with every hireling and one hireling with every hireling These were as a standing household guard continued Medb hence hath my father bestowed one of the five provinces of Erin upon me even the province of Cruachan wherefore Medb of Cruachan am I called Men came from Finn son of Ross Ruad the Red king of Leinster to seek me for a wife and I refused him and from Carbre Niafer the Champion son of Ross Ruad the Red king of Temair to woo me and I refused him and they came from Conchobar son of Fachtna Fathach the Mighty king of Ulster and I refused him in like wise They came from Eochu Bec the Small and I went not for tis I that exacted a singular bride gift such as no woman before me had ever required of a man of the men of Erin namely a husband without avarice without jealousy without fear For should he be mean the man with whom I should live we were ill matched together inasmuch as I am great in largess and gift giving and it would be a disgrace for my husband if I should be better at spending than he and for it to be said that I was superior in wealth and treasures to him while no disgrace would it be were one as great as the other Were my husband a coward twere as unfit for us to be mated for I by myself and alone break battles and fights and combats and twould be a reproach for my husband should his wife be more full of life than himself and no reproach our being equally bold Should he be jealous the husband with whom I should live that too would not suit me for there never was a time that I had not my paramour Howbeit such a husband have I found namely in thee thyself Ailill son of Ross Ruad the Red of Leinster Thou wast not churlish thou wast not jealous thou wast not a sluggard It was I plighted thee and gave purchase price to thee which of right belongs to the bride of clothing namely the raiment of twelve men a chariot worth thrice seven bondmaids the breadth of thy face of red gold the weight of thy left forearm of silvered bronze Whoso brings shame and sorrow and madness upon thee no claim for compensation nor satisfaction hast thou therefor that I myself have not but it is to me the compensation belongs said Medb for a man dependent upon a woman's maintenance is what thou art Nay not such was my state said Ailill but two brothers had I one of them over Temair the other over Leinster namely Finn over Leinster and Carbre over Temair I left the kingship to them because they were older but not superior to me in largess and bounty Nor heard I of province in Erin under woman's keeping but this province alone And for this I came and assumed the kingship here as my mother's successor for Mata of Muresc daughter of Magach of Connacht was my mother And who could there be for me to have as my queen better than thyself being as thou wert daughter of the High King of Erin Yet so it is pursued Medb my fortune is greater than thine I marvel at that Ailill made answer for there is none that hath greater treasures and riches and wealth than I yea to my

Winifred Faraday,2011-12-03 THE Cattle Raid of Cualnge is the chief story belonging to the heroic cycle of Ulster which had its centre in the deeds of the Ulster king Conchobar Mac Nessa and his nephew and chief warrior Cuchulainn Mac Sualtaim Tradition places their date at the beginning of the Christian era The events leading up to this tale the most famous of Irish mythical stories may be shortly summarised here from the Book of Leinster introduction to the Tain and from the other tales belonging to the Ulster cycle It is elsewhere narrated that the Dun Bull of Cualnge for whose sake Ailill and Medb the king and queen of Connaught undertook this expedition was one of two bulls in whom two rival swineherds belonging to the supernatural race known as the people of the Sid or fairy mounds were reincarnated after passing through various other forms The other bull Findbennach the Whitehorned was in the herd of Medb at Cruachan Ai the Connaught capital but left it to join Ailill s herd This caused Ailill s possessions to exceed Medb s and to equalise matters she determined to secure the great Dun Bull who alone equalled the Whitehorned An embassy to the owner of the Dun Bull failed and Ailill and Medb therefore began preparations for an invasion of Ulster in which province then ruled by Conchobar Mac Nessa Cualnge was situated A number of smaller Tana or cattle raids prefatory to the great Tain Bo Cuailnge relate some of their efforts to procure allies and provisions The Cattle-Raid of Cualnge (Tain Bo Cualnge) : An Old Irish Prose-Epic Anonymous,2019-11-20 The Cattle Raid of Cualnge Tain Bo Cualnge is a seminal work of Old Irish literature that transports readers into the heart of ancient myth and legend Structured as a prose epic the narrative chronicles the famed cattle raid led by the hero C Chulainn intertwining themes of honor valor and the tumultuous relations between Connacht and Ulster Written in a style that combines lyrical beauty with an adventurous spirit the text is rich in historical context reflecting pre Christian Irish society s values and social structures while mirroring the performative storytelling traditions of its time Though the author remains anonymous this epic likely emerged during the 12th century a period marked by the preservation and revival of ancestral lore The cultural milieu of medieval Ireland where tales of heroes and mythical creatures were central to the collective identity influenced the creation of this work The blending of oral traditions with emerging literary forms showcases a society grappling with its past and identity which may have inspired the author to capture these expansive tales in written form I highly recommend The Cattle Raid of Cualnge to anyone intrigued by mythology epic literature or the historical foundations of Ireland This work not only offers captivating narratives but also provides profound insights into the complexities of human nature societal conflict and the eternal struggle for identity a timeless exploration that resonates across ages The Ogam Inscribed Monuments of the Gaedhil in the British Island Richard Rolt Brash,1879 The Ogam inscribed monuments of the Gaedhill in the British islands; with a dissertation on the Ogam character by Richard Rolt Brash. Ed. by George M. Atkinson Richard Rolt Brash,1879 Oral Literature Joseph J. Duggan,1975 The Ancient Irish Epic Tale Tain Bo Cualnge the Cualnge Cattle-Raid (Dodo Press) Joseph Dunn,2007-08 Tin B Cailnge the driving off of cows of Cooley more usually rendered The Cattle Raid of Cooley or The Tin is the central tale in the Ulster Cycle one of the four great cycles that make up the surviving corpus of Irish mythology It is recorded in Old and Middle Irish and is written mainly in prose with some verse sections especially at moments of heightened tension or emotion The tale relates a war against Ulster by the Connacht queen Medb and her husband Ailill who intend to steal the stud bull Donn Cuailnge and the efforts of the teenage Ulster hero Cchulainn to oppose them The Fairy-faith in Celtic Countries Walter Yeeling Evans-Wentz,1911 In this study which is first of all a folk lore study we pursue principally an anthropo psychological method of interpreting the Celtic belief in fairies though we do not hesitate now and then to call in the aid of philology and we make good use of the evidence offered by mythologies religions metaphysics and physical sciences
