The Death Penalty Issues And Answers:

The Death Penalty David Lester, 1998 Is the death penalty a deterrent Is it applied disproportionately to certain ethnic groups How harsh is life on death row In this expanded new edition the author examines these and other controversial issues draws conclusions from the current research and discusses their implication for social policy Topics such as capital punishment policies around the world executions in the United States public opinion on the death penalty juries and the death penalty and economic analyses of the deterrent factor all receive comprehensive coverage Appendices round out this newly revised and updated text with studies on public attitudes toward rape and capital punishment and the deterrent effect of executions on the homicide rate in the United States The Rosicrucian Philosophy in Questions and Answers Max

Heindel, 1910 Deterrence and the Death Penalty National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on Law and Justice, Committee on Deterrence and the Death Penalty, 2012-05-26 Many studies during the past few decades have sought to determine whether the death penalty has any deterrent effect on homicide rates Researchers have reached widely varying even contradictory conclusions Some studies have concluded that the threat of capital punishment deters murders saving large numbers of lives other studies have concluded that executions actually increase homicides still others that executions have no effect on murder rates Commentary among researchers advocates and policymakers on the scientific validity of the findings has sometimes been acrimonious Against this backdrop the National Research Council report Deterrence and the Death Penalty assesses whether the available evidence provides a scientific basis for answering questions of if and how the death penalty affects homicide rates This new report from the Committee on Law and Justice concludes that research to date on the effect of capital punishment on homicide rates is not useful in determining whether the death penalty increases decreases or has no effect on these rates The key question is whether capital punishment is less or more effective as a deterrent than alternative punishments such as a life sentence without the possibility of parole Yet none of the research that has been done accounted for the possible effect of noncapital punishments on homicide rates The report recommends new avenues of research that may provide broader insight into any deterrent effects from both capital and noncapital punishments The Death Penalty in America Hugo Adam
