The Global Environment of Insurance Don Ball, 1999      Current Problems of the Global Environmental Economy Under the Conditions of Climate Change and the Perspectives of Sustainable Development Elena G. Popkova, Bruno S. Sergi, 2023-01-31

This book presents a systemic view of the global environmental economy under the conditions of climate change from the positions of Sustainable Development Goals. The purpose of the book is to study the current problems of the global environmental economy under the conditions of climate change and to determine the prospects of its sustainable development systemic support for the SDGs. This goal predetermines the logic and structure of the book which is comprised of five parts. Part I presents the authors' novel view of the global environmental economy under the conditions of climate change from the positions of the SDGs. It reflects the contradiction and describes the path of preserving economic growth during the implementation of SDG 13. The COVID 19 pandemic and economic crisis are considered as the result of the reduction of biodiversity under the conditions of climate change from the positions of SDG 3. Responsible innovations, eco friendly products and green trade are presented as trends of the environmental economy under the conditions of climate change to support SDG 12. Green jobs are analyzed in the environmental economy under the conditions of climate change during the implementation of SDG 8. The significance of social inclusivity and reduction of the inequality of the environmental economy under the conditions of climate change to support SDG 10 is noted. Part II elaborates on the sectoral specifics of the influence of climate change on the environmental economy: energetics, finance, industry, state management and agriculture. Part III presents and discusses the international experience of development of the environmental economy under the conditions of climate change given the specifics of developed and developing countries and based on the case experience of Central Asia, the EAEU and Russia. In Part IV, technological transition. Fourth Industrial Revolution is offered as a perspective response of the global economic policy to climate change. Scenarios of the fight against climate change in the Decade of Action depending on the scale of the technological transition are described: digital economy vs Industry 4.0 and Society 5.0. The perspectives of the technological transition at the level of companies, creation of cyber physical systems of Industry 4.0, green digital innovations and smart ESG finance and regions, smart region as a socio economic environment with large adaptability to climate change are described.

A Global Environmental Right Stephen Turner, 2013-09-11

The development of an international substantive environmental right on a global level has long been a contested issue. To a limited extent, environmental rights have developed in a fragmented way through different legal regimes. This book examines the potential for the development of a global environmental right that would create legal duties for all types of decision makers and provide the bedrock for a new system of international environmental governance. Taking a problem solving approach, the book seeks to demonstrate how straightforward and logical changes to the existing global legal architecture would address some of the fundamental root causes of environmental degradation. It puts forward a draft global environmental right that would integrate duties for both state and non state actors within reformed systems of environmental governance and a rational framework for business and industry to adhere to in order that those systems could be made operational It also examines the failures of the existing international climate change regime and explains how the draft global environmental right could remedy existing deficits This innovative and interdisciplinary book will be of great interest to policy makers students and researchers in international environmental law climate change environmental politics and global environmental governance as well as those studying the WTO international trade law human rights law constitutional law and corporate law

Routledge International Handbook of Green Criminology Nigel South, Avi Brisman, 2020-04-14 The Routledge International Handbook of Green Criminology was the first comprehensive and international anthology dedicated to green criminology It presented green criminology to an international audience described the state of the field offered a description of a range of environmental issues of regional and global importance and argued for continued criminological attention to environmental crimes and harms setting an agenda for further study In the six years since its publication the field has continued to grow and thrive This revised and expanded second edition of the Handbook reflects new methodological orientations new locations of study such as Asia Canada and South America and new responses to environmental harms While a number of the original chapters have been revised the second edition offers a range of fresh chapters covering new and emerging areas of study such as conservation criminology eco feminism environmental victimology fracking migration and eco rights and e waste This handbook continues to define and capture the field of green criminology and is essential reading for students and researchers engaged in green crime and environmental harm
