The Development of American Romance Michael Davitt Bell, 1980 The Development of American Romance Michael D. Bell, 1980 Culture, Genre, and Literary Vocation Michael Davitt Bell, 2001 In Culture Genre and Literary Vocation Michael Davitt Bell charts the important and often overlooked connection between literary culture and authors careers Bell s influential essays on nineteenth century American writers originally written for such landmark projects as The Columbia Literary History of the United States and The Cambridge History of American Literature are gathered here with a major new essay on Richard Wright Throughout Bell revisits issues of genre with an eye toward the unexpected details of authors lives and invites us to reconsider the hidden functions that terms such as romanticism and realism served for authors and their critics Whether tracing the demands of the market or the expectations of readers Bell examines the intimate relationship between literary production and culture each essay closely links the milieu in which American writers worked with the trajectory of their storied careers The Romance of Real Life Steven Watts, 2019-12-01 Originally published in 1994 The Romance of Real Life aims to reconstruct historically the life and writings of Charles Brockden Brown in terms of their cultural connection Watts examines in detail Brown s early and later writings By looking at these often neglected works more closely he offers a new perspective on the well known novels from the late 1790s Watts s synthetic look at genre as well as chronology reveals broader connections between Brown s literature and American society and culture in the decades of the early republic Furthermore Watts situates Brown s writings in terms of the interplay of text context and the self with each factor recognized as mutually shaping the others The Romance of Real Life incorporates sensitivity to the social history of ideas in which both the form and content of language remain rooted in the material experience of real life New Essays on 'The Scarlet Letter' Michael J. Colacurcio, 1985-10-31 These interpretative essays explore different topics and issues in the context of history and culture Revisionary Interventions Into the Americanist Canon Donald E. Pease, 1994-06-17 Throughout the era of the Cold War a consensus reigned as to what constituted the great works of American literature Yet as scholars have increasingly shown and as this volume unmistakably demonstrates that consensus was built upon the repression of the voices and historical contexts of subordinated social groups as well as literary works themselves works both outside and within the traditional canon This book is an effort to recover those lost voices Engaging New Historicist neo Marxist poststructuralist and other literary practices this volume marks important shifts in the organizing principles and self understanding of the field of American Studies Originally published as a special issue of boundary 2 the essays gathered here discuss writers as diverse as Kate Chopin Frederick Douglass Emerson Melville W D Howells Henry James W E B DuBois and Mark Twain plus the historical figure John Brown Two major sections devoted to the theory of romance and to cultural historical analyses emphasize the political perspective of New Americanist literary and cultural study Contributors William E Cain Wai chee Dimock Howard Horwitz Gregory S Jay Steven Mailloux John McWilliams Susan Mizruchi Donald E Pease Ivy

Schweitzer Priscilla Wald Michael Warner Robert Weimann Nineteenth-century American Romance E. Miller Budick, 1996 Nineteenth century American romance as a genre is defined by the writings of a particular group of authors James Fenimore Cooper Washington Irving Charles Brockden Brown Edgar Allan Poe Nathaniel Hawthorne Herman Melville and Henry James all of whom are associated with one another in time and place In this volume Emily Miller Budick examines the genre both as a style and within a historical context She interprets American romance as an evolving literary aesthetic and cultural philosophy as an effort by a group of writers to produce what Noah Webster called an American tongue a language imbued with the values of democracy and pluralism

The Romantic Lives of Emerging Adults Varda Konstam, 2019-01-21 The romantic lives of emerging adults are often baffling and contradictory While they prize committed and authentic relationships they appear to be reluctant participants They prefer to foster ambiguity in their romantic relationships even as they value honesty and clarity There is at once a valuing of long term as well as a decentering of romantic relationships Although our current understanding is incomplete this text grapples with these perplexing questions In attempting to understand emerging adults and their romantic lives researchers must consider the challenging economic conditions in which today's emerging adults find themselves With an emphasis on commitment and sacrifice and their centrality to one's readiness for a long term relationship this book reviews the main milestones in transitioning from an I identity to a we identity and discusses the concepts of choice and risk Further the book examines structures such as asymmetrically committed relationships cohabitation and marriage through the lens of commitment risk and risk avoidance Probing extensively into the romantic lives of emerging adults their attitudes values and expectations this text examines some of the developmental and contextual realities against which romantic attachment must be viewed Critical topics such as casual and sexual experiences and relationships integration of work and love breakups marriage going solo and social media and its influences are considered The commonality and the individuality of the emerging adults presented throughout this text contribute to a rich understanding of emerging adults and how they live and love Yale Journal of Law & the Humanities, 1993

The Porous Sanctuary William Freedman, 2002 The Porous Sanctuary argues that the resistance to interpretation discovered by increasingly frequent deconstructive readings of Poe's short fictions can be interpreted psychologically rather than deconstructively The various strategies of obfuscation and evasion conscious or otherwise that permeate the texts serve to obscure intimidating realities typically associated with woman and the female body which the narratives glimpse and recoil from For Poe art was a sanctuary from such unpalatable realities but it was a porous one relentlessly invaded by what it was designed to exclude The tales self-reflexive in this sense typically narrate the struggle between the autotelic insularity of the work of art and the assaults of a menacing reality upon its penetrable walls The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1884
