The Deceptionist:

Diversion and Deception Whitney T. Bendeck, 2021-03-04 Among the operations known as Plan Bodyguard the deception devised to cover the Allies Normandy landing was the little known but critical Plan Zeppelin the largest and most complex of the Bodyguard plans Zeppelin in conjunction with the Mediterranean Strategy succeeded in pinning down sixty German divisions from southern France to the Balkans in time for D Day This was the work of A Force Britain's only military organization tasked with carrying out both strategic and tactical deception in World War II Whitney T Bendeck's Diversion and Deception finds A Force at its finest hour as the war shifted from North Africa to Europe Focusing on the years 1943 to 1945 Bendeck describes how A Force under the leadership of Dudley Clarke orchestrated both strategic and tactical deception plans to create notional threats across the southern perimeter of Europe with the chief objective of keeping the Germans pinned down across the Mediterranean Her work offers a close and clarifying look at A Force's structure and command operations and methods and successes and failures and consequently its undeniable contribution to the Allies victory in World War II By shining a light on the often overlooked Mediterranean theater and its direct connection to European plans and operations Diversion and Deception also provides a deeper understanding of Allied grand strategy in the war Combining military and deception histories so often viewed in isolation this book provides context for the deceptions and adds a layer of knowledge regarding the planning of military operations The result is a more complete and nuanced view of Allied operations than is to be found in most histories of World War II     The Oxford Handbook of Lying Jörg

Meibauer, 2018-11-15 This handbook brings together past and current research on all aspects of lying and deception with chapters contributed by leading international experts in the field We are confronted daily with cases of lying deception bullshitting and fake news making it imperative to understand how lying works how it can be defined and whether it can be detected A further important issue is whether lying should always be considered a bad thing or if in some cases it is simply a useful instrument of human cognition This volume is the first to offer a comprehensive and up to date exploration of these and other issues from the combined perspectives of linguistics philosophy and psychology Chapters offer precise definitions of lying and its subtypes and outline the range of fields in which lying and deception play a role from empirical lie detection and the acquisition of lying to its role in fiction metaphor and humour They also describe the tools and approaches that are used by scholars researching lying and deception such as questionnaire studies EEG neuroimaging and the polygraph The volume will be an essential reference for students and researchers in a range of fields who are looking to deepen their understanding of all aspects of lying and deception and will contribute to establishing the vibrant new field of interdisciplinary lying research     Doing Pragmatics Interculturally Rachel Giora, Michael Haugh, 2017-09-11 Intercultural Pragmatics is a large and diverse field encompassing a wide range of approaches methods and theories This volume draws scholars together from a broad range of cognitive philosophical and sociopragmatic perspectives on language use in order to lay the path for a mutually informing and enriching dialogue across subfields and perceived barriers to doing pragmatics interculturally

language English abstract Throughout this essay I explore the ways in which the memory loss of Trevor Reznik and Leonard Shelby can be seen as a symptom of guilt Whilst it may be drawn that Trevor s mental health is impacted by his insomnia and Leonard s condition is explained by the accident the complex narratives allow various readings through which it can be speculated that the tormented mental states of both men results in a process of self deception of which memory loss is a key element Throughout the films there are various clues in the form of flashbacks formative techniques and the doubling of personality which suggests their guilty conscience plays a prominent role in their amnesia Whilst the protagonists lives are controlled by their inability to remember their memory loss can be seen as a coping mechanism to shield traumatic events of their personal history from their current selves In all I discuss how the abnormal mental states of the protagonists can be seen as a result of psychological trauma and a guilty conscience through which their subsequent memory loss is used in a process of deception
