change in medieval religious history will find this work essential BOOK JACKET Pope Innocent III and the secular crusades James Pinnock,2018-02-28 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2011 in the subject History of Europe Middle Ages Early

Modern Age grade 74 0% Durham University language English abstract Propagated in his papal bull of April 1213 the Vineam domini sabaoth is Pope Innocent III s essential conception of and approach to his duty as Supreme Pontiff Among all the good things which our heart can desire there are two in this world which we value above all that is to promote the recovery of the Holy Land and the reform of the universal church This bull summoning the ecclesiastical leaders of Western Christendom to the Fourth Lateran Council provides an essential background to our examination of crusade during the pontificate of Pope Innocent III It reflects the crucial foundation by which Innocent directed his efforts and the efforts of his curia in the years 1198 1216 whereby crusade and crusading achieved a primacy in the formulation of papal policy unrivalled up this point in the history of the crusading movement a primacy which was challenged only but importantly not surpassed by the reform of the universal church

Papal Overlordship and European Princes, 1000-1270 Benedict Wiedemann,2021-12-01 Papal Overlordship and European Princes 1000 1270 offers a new perspective on the political history of the central Middle Ages by focusing on the alliances between popes and rulers who claimed a special relationship with the successor of St Peter Rather than seeing these relationships as attempts by the popes to assert their lordship and monarchy over the entire world as many past narratives have this study asks what rulers got out of these relationships what they meant and how they were constructed Papal government in fact much pre modern government in general was based around replying to petitions Thus rulers and subjects by entering into a relationship with the pope were able to petition Rome and have their requests approved and given the sanction of papal authority Papal power was enlisted in the causes of petitioners All of these relationships between the popes and the kings of England Aragon Sicily Hungary Portugal and a myriad of further polities have at one time or another been called feudal a word that explains little or nothing about the nature and expectations of the alliance The second strand of this study examines how these relationships were constructed and how words and concepts circulated Eventually terms like fief and vassal and ideas about deposition of vassal kings were introduced into the political discourse around papal authority over their kings It always remained the case however that rulers sought out papal overlordship because of the opportunity it gave them to adopt and adapt papal power for their own purposes    The Papacy, Frederick II and Communal Devotion in Medieval Italy James M. Powell, edited by Edward Peters, 2024-10-28 Of the twenty five essays in this volume most were published between 1961 and 2013 but four are printed here for the first time They represent the work of a great and original scholar in Mediterranean history whose unflagging interest in Frederick II and his world consistently led him out into broader fields which he always viewed in original ways In an age often called that of papal monarchy and secular minded rulers Powell found popes with complex agendas and extensive pastoral concerns a rather more Christian Frederick II the human personnel and mechanics of the Fifth Crusade the sermons of the devout urban layman Albertanus of Brescia and Muslims under Christian rule His studies here assert a continuity between the pontificates of Innocent III and Honorius III as well as the pragmatic necessity that only secular rulers could launch and direct crusading expeditions His interest in the northern Italian communes relates their devotional culture to the ideals of virtuous government and communal identity The devotional culture of the communes was to be the subject of his next book now unfinished several parts of it could be rescued and are now included here    Law as Profession and Practice in Medieval Europe Kenneth Pennington, Melodie Harris Eichbauer, 2016-04-15 This volume brings together papers by a group of scholars distinguished in their own right in honour of James Brundage The essays are organised into four sections each corresponding to an important focus of Brundage's scholarly work The first section explores the connection between the development of medieval legal and constitutional thought Thomas Izbicki Kenneth Pennington and Charles Reid Jr explore various aspects of the jurisprudence of the Ius commune while James Powell Michael Gervers and Nicole Hamonic Olivia Robinson and Elizabeth Makowski examine how that jurisprudence was applied to various medieval institutions Brian Tierney and James Muldoon conclude this section by demonstrating two important points modern ideas of consent in the political sphere and fundamental principles of international law attributed to sixteenth century jurists like Hugo Grotius have deep roots in medieval jurisprudential thought Patrick Zutshi R H Helmholz Peter Landau Marjorie Chibnall and Edward Peters have written essays that augment Brundage's work on the growth of the legal profession and how traces of a legal education began to emerge in many diverse arenas The influence of legal thinking on marriage and sexuality was another aspect of Brundage's broad interests In the third section Richard Kay Charles Donahue Jr and Glenn Olsen explore the intersection of law and marriage and the interplay of legal thought on a central institution of Christian society The contributions of Jonathan Riley Smith and Robert Somerville in the fourth section round out the volume and are devoted to Brundage's path breaking work on medieval law and the crusading movement The volume also includes a comprehensive bibliography of Brundage's work    Selected Works of Abbot Suger of Saint Denis Suger (Abbot of Saint Denis), 2018 Translated with Introduction and Notes by Richard Cusimano and Eric Whitmore Suger the twelfth century abbot of Saint Denis has not received the respect and attention that he deserves Bernard of Clairvaux and Peter the Venerable have garnered more attention and students of medieval history know their names well In one respect however Suger has earned due praise for his architectural innovations to the church of Saint Denis made it truly one of the most beautiful churches in Europe Students of history and architecture know Suger best for his work on Saint Denis the burial site of medieval French kings queens and nobility The abbot enlarged decorated improved and redesigned the building so beautifully that it is safe to say that he became the foremost church architect of twelfth century France The man however was so much more than an architect He served as a counselor and member of the courts of King Louis VI and VII who sent him across Europe on diplomatic missions He represented those kings at the papal curia and imperial diets He was also a close friend and confidante of King Henry I of England whom he often visited on behalf of French royal interests Never shy Suger seems almost obsessed that his works and deeds not be forgotten He acquired numerous properties and estates for his abbey as well as improved the ones it already possessed He built new buildings barns walls for villages and increased the return of grain from all the abbey's lands Readers interested in the medieval agricultural system and way of life will also enjoy these texts Suger's texts also provide a wealth of information about the events of his era as well as a large amount of biographical material on his accomplishments This translation of his writings intends to enhance his reputation and make his name better known by students at all levels and among those interested in medieval topics
