

The Neighborhood Project is a story in the making ... seeking out the unseen neighborhood ... changing our perceptions of "neighborhood," ... building neighborhood.

The Neighborhood is Living Narrative

The Neighborhood is a dynamic, Living Narrative, an unfolding autobiography, a melding of countless individual stories; raveling not in words but in movement, fear, desire, need, coupling-the daily of living.

The neighborhood seen is a narrative painted upon the canvas of the neighborhood invisible; meaning – definition – is not found in the narrative, but in the illegible depths of the unseen, the unheard, neighborhood. To think that the "painting" is the narrative is delusional. For what is seen is but an incomplete snapshot in time, one fragment of the ever-unfolding narrative. Incomplete because it cannot capture the full dynamic of that moment, limited to the immediate perspective and surround.

Yet we delude ourselves into believing that we can arrange the narrative of "captured neighborhood" into a collage called "The Neighborhood." Deluded, we seek to manage that which has been captured, convincing ourselves the fiction that we write is The Neighborhood.

And The Neighborhood ceases to exist.

Premise

"Neighborhoods decline when the people who live there lose their connection and no longer feel part of their community." – The Great Neighborhood Book (Intro)

The Decline Of Our Neighborhood Stories Rutgers Press Fiction:

The Decline of Our Neighborhood Robert Wexelblatt, 1993 The eleven stories in The Decline of Our Neighborhood provide further proof that Robert Wexelblatt is a writer of uncommon intelligence and verve Unusual characters in strange circumstances struggle here for meaning and vision Glnin a writer suddenly finds himself president of an unnamed republic Katy Moffit sometime comic and smart alec takes on the sleepy town of Benton Indiana Appearances are also made by Ishl Teitelbaum the Savior the famous courtesan Lucina who visits the hermit Arnaud and falls in love the Alpha Company Artists Collaborative Isaac Fehderflos a well known violinist and improbably a second Isaac Fehderflos who is not a violinist and the astonishing Olmaler painter in oils better known as O Malley who does not want to live if he cannot paint and means it As always Wexelblatt's stories are about both language and people They enter the consciousness of the reader in surprising and moving ways Readers who have not encountered Robert Wexelblatt's work are in for a treat Those who already know him will be eager to see what's new in his delightful universe Zublinka Among Women Robert Wexelblatt, 2008 Zublinka is a beloved friend author and philosopher who at the age of 70 lives a rich and varied life of the mind and spirit The warm and witty novel shows that goodness is possible and seldom unalloyed Contemporary Authors Julie Keppen, 2004-10 A biographical and bibliographical guide to current writers in all fields including poetry fiction and nonfiction journalism drama television and movies Information is provided by the authors themselves or drawn from published interviews feature stories book reviews and other materials provided by the authors publishers The New York Times Book Review, 1994 Presents extended reviews of noteworthy books short reviews essays and articles on topics and trends in publishing literature culture and the arts Includes lists of best sellers hardcover and paperback Denver Quarterly, 2000 Something Between Us Anand Pandian, 2025-05-27 An anthropologist's quest to understand the deep social and political divides in American society and the everyday strategies that can overcome them In 2016 Anand Pandian was alarmed by Donald Trump's harsh attacks on immigrants to the United States the appeal of that politics of anger and fear In the years that followed he crisscrossed the country from Fargo North Dakota to Denton Texas from southern California to upstate New York seeking out fellow Americans with markedly different social and political commitments trying to understand the forces that have hardened our suspicions of others The result is Something Between Us The Everyday Walls of American Life and How to Take Them Down a groundbreaking and ultimately hopeful exploration of the ruptures in our social fabric and courageous efforts to rebuild a collective life beyond them The stakes of disconnection have never been higher From the plight of migrants and refugees to the climate crisis and the recent pandemic so much turns on the care and concern we can muster for lives and circumstances beyond our own But as Pandian discovers such empathy is often thwarted by the infrastructure of everyday American life fortified homes and neighborhoods bulked up cars and trucks visions of the body as an armored fortress and media that shut out contrary views Home and road body and mind these interlocking walls sharpen the divide between insiders and outsiders making it difficult to take unfamiliar people and perspectives seriously to acknowledge the needs of others and relate to their struggles Through vivid encounters with Americans of many kinds including salesmen truck drivers police officers urban planners and activists for women s rights and environmental justice Pandian shares tools to think beyond the twists and turns of our bracing present While our impasses draw from deep American histories of isolation and segregation he reveals how strategies of mutual aid and communal caretaking can help to surface more radical visions for a life in common with others ways of meeting strangers in this land as potential kin

Revitalizing Urban Neighborhoods William Dennis Keating,Norman Krumholz,Philip Star,1996 Since the 1950s and the advance of urban renewal local governments and urban policy have focused heavily on the central business district However such development has all but ignored the inner city neighborhoods that continue to struggle in the shadows of high rise America This analysis of urban neighborhoods in the United States from 1960 to 1995 presents fifteen essays by scholars of urban planning and development Together they show how urban neighborhoods can and must be preserved as economic cultural and political centers Place Matters Peter Dreier,John H. Mollenkopf,Todd Swanstrom,2001 The central thesis of Place Matters is that economic segregation between rich and poor and the growing sprawl of American cities and suburbs are not solely the result of individual choices in free markets Rather these problems have been powerfully shaped by short sighted government policies Design Issues ,1996 History Today Peter Quennell,1987 Publishers Directory ,1993 Books and Pamphlets, Including Serials and Contributions to Periodicals Library of Congress.
