The Artist And The Built Environment:

The Artist and the Built Environment Donald Stoltenberg, 1980 This book is concerned with the built environment the buildings transportation and engineering works around us Conversion of old structures to contemporary uses preservation and ind l archaeology indicate an awareness of the urban landscape and the effect it has upon us The artist s function is to examine digest and interpret our surroundings This book includes artists who have responded to this theme such as Canaletto Sheeler Demuth Burchfield Turner and Soutine Examples have been chosen to show how artists of different periods temperaments and backgrounds have approached similar subjects or even the same motif Profusely illustrated

American Artists Engage the Built Environment, 1960-1979 Susanneh Bieber, 2023-07-31 This volume reframes the development of US American avant garde art of the long 1960s from minimal and pop art to land art conceptual art site specific practices and feminist art in the context of contemporary architectural discourses Susanneh Bieber analyzes the work of seven major artists Donald Judd Robert Grosvenor Claes Oldenburg Robert Smithson Lawrence Weiner Gordon Matta Clark and Mary Miss who were closely associated with the formal aesthetic innovations of the period While these individual artists came to represent diverse movements Bieber argues that all of them were attracted to the field of architecture the work of architects engineers preservationists landscape designers and urban planners because they believed these practices more directly shaped the social and material spaces of everyday life This book s contribution to the field of art history is thus twofold First it shows that the avant garde of the long 1960s did not simply develop according to an internal logic of art but also as part of broader sociocultural discourses about buildings and cities Second it exemplifies a methodological synthesis between social art history and poststructural formalism that is foundational to understanding the role of art in the construction of a more just and egalitarian society The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history architecture urbanism and environmental humanism

Routledge Companion to Creativity and the Built Environment Julie T. Miao, Tan Yigitcanlar, 2024-03-29 This book crititically examines the reciprocal relationship between creativity and the built environment and features leading voices from across the world in a debate on originating learning modifying and plagiarizing creativities within the built environment The Companion includes contributions from architecture design planning construction real estate economics urban studies geography sociology and public policies Contributors review the current field and proposes new conceptual frameworks research methodologies and directions for research policy and practice Chapters are organised into five sections each drawing on cross disciplinary insights and debates Section I connects creativity productivity and economic growth and examines how our built environment stimulates or intimidates human imaginations Section II addresses how hard environments are fabricated with social cultural and institutional meanings and how these evolve in different times and settings Section III discusses activities that directly and indirectly shape the material development of a built environment its environmental sustainability space utility and place identity

Section IV illustrates how technologies and innovations are used in building and strengthening an intelligent real time responsive urban agenda Section V examines governance opportunities and challenges at the interface between creativity and built environment An important resource for scholars and students in the fields of urban planning and development urban studies environmental sustainability human geography sociology and public policy

Theology in Built Environments Sigurd Bergmann, 2017-07-12 Built space is both a physical entity as well as a socially and historically constructed place It constantly interacts with human beings affecting their behavior thinking and feeling Doing religious work in a particular environment implies acknowledging the surroundings to be integral to theology itself The contributors to this volume view buildings scriptures conversations prayers preaching artifacts music and drama and built and natural surroundings as contributors to a contextual theology The view of the environment in which religion is practiced as integrated with theology represents not just a new theme but also a necessity if one is to understand religion's own depth Reflections about space and place and how they reflect and affect religious experience provide a challenge and an urgent necessity for theology This is particularly important if religious practitioners are to become aware of how theology is given expression in the existential spatiality of life Can space set theology free This is a challenging question one that the editor hopes can be answered at least in part in this volume The diversity of theoretical concepts in aesthetics cultural theory and architecture are not regarded as a problem to be solved by constructing one overarching dominant theory Instead this diversity is viewed in terms of its positive potential to inspire discourse about theology and aesthetics In this discourse theology does not need to become fully dependent on one or another theory but should always clearly present its criteria for choosing this or that theoretical framework This volume shows clearly how different modes of design in sacred spaces capture a sense of the religious

Lenore Tawney Karen Patterson, 2019-09-18 Recent years have seen an enormous surge of interest in fiber arts with works made of thread on display in art museums around the world But this art form only began to transcend its origins as a humble craft in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and it wasn't until the 1950s and 1960s that artists used the fiber arts to build critical practices that challenged the definitions of painting drawing and sculpture One of those artists was Lenore Tawney 1907-2007 Raised and trained in Chicago before she moved to New York Tawney had a storied career She was known for employing an ancient Peruvian gauze weave technique to create a painterly effect that appeared to float in space rather than cling to the wall as well as for being one of the first artists to blend sculptural techniques with weaving practices and in the process pioneered a new direction in fiber art Despite her prominence on the New York art scene however she has only recently begun to receive her due from the greater art world Accompanying a retrospective at the John Michael Kohler Arts Center this catalog features a comprehensive biography of Tawney additional essays on her work and two hundred full color illustrations making it of interest to contemporary artists
