The Autobiographical Consciousness:

The autobiographical consciousness William Alexander Earle, 1972      The autobiographical consciousness William Alexander Earle, 1972      Spiritual Intelligence and the Neuroplastic Brain Charles W. Mark Ph. D., Charles W. Mark, 2010 Our brains are getting wired differently in the world of digital technology information revolution and in the inter cultural world of global society Think of the new vocabulary Global brain collective intelligence global village and cyberspace That should tell us something about the neural rewiring that is taking place inside of our brains whether or not we are aware of it The fact that the human brain changes throughout a person's life in response to intellectual stimulation physical exercise exposure to new cultural environments learning opportunities and challenges is a revolutionary discovery Till twenty years ago neuroscientists believed in the conventional theory that the brain's ability at making new neural connections stopped before a child entered adolescence That is the old dogma There is a Second Copernican Revolution taking place inside of our brains writes the author quoting Carl Zimmer Some experts are suggesting that we are already living in what Richard Restack calls the neurosociety Ray Kurzweil the futurist is predicting that by 2045 A D human beings will be living in an era of singularity when non biological machines invented by human brains and human ingenuity are going to outsmart human intelligence billions of times What is going to be the fate of the human spirit human spirituality the feeling of connection to a force and power that is greater than us God our ability to use spiritual imagination and our intelligence Are we progressively moving away from religion and community based spirituality into the spirituality of different strokes for different folks In his groundbreaking book Spiritual Intelligence and The Neuroplastic Brain A Contextual Interpretation of Modern History Charles W Mark takes the reader on a journey through modern history and shows the glimpse of what is to come http www spirituality intelligence com      Brain, Mind and the Signifying Body Paul Thibault, 2004-06-07 Thought always exaggerates Hannah Arendt writes The question of exaggeration becomes a philosophical question when thought endeavours to clarify the ways in which it relates to limits If its disclosing force depends on exaggeration so does the confusion to which it can fall prey This book analyses concepts such as truth and trust practices such as politics and art experiences such as the formation of a life line and its erasure from the viewpoint of exaggeration      Learning and Memory: A Comprehensive Reference, 2017-07-07 Learning and Memory A Comprehensive Reference Second Edition Four Volume Set is the authoritative resource for scientists and students interested in all facets of learning and memory This updated edition includes chapters that reflect the state of the art of research in this area Coverage of sleep and memory has been significantly expanded while neuromodulators in memory processing neurogenesis and epigenetics are also covered in greater detail New chapters have been included to reflect the massive increase in research into working memory and the educational relevance of memory research No other reference work covers so wide a territory and in so much depth Provides the most comprehensive and authoritative resource available on the study of learning and memory and its mechanisms

Incorporates the expertise of over 150 outstanding investigators in the field providing a one stop resource of reputable information from world leading scholars with easy cross referencing of related articles to promote understanding and further research Includes further reading for each chapter that helps readers continue their research Includes a glossary of key terms that is helpful for users who are unfamiliar with neuroscience terminology Autobiography James Olney,2014-07-14 Professor Olney gathers together in this book some of the best and most important writings on autobiography produced in the past two decades Originally published in 1980 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 A Climate of Justice: An Ethical Foundation for Environmentalism Marvin T. Brown,2022-01-01 This open access book helps readers combine history politics and ethics to address the most pressing problem facing the world today environmental survival In A Climate of Justice Marvin Brown connects the environmental crisis to basic questions of economic social and racial justice Brown shows how our current social climate maintains systemic injustices and he uncovers resources for change through a civic ethics of repair and reciprocity A must read for researchers and educators in the area of environmental ethics and those teaching courses in the fields of public policy and environmental sustainability With the support of more than 30 libraries the LYRASIS United Nations Sustainable Development Goals Fund has enabled this publication related to SDG13 Climate Action to be available fully open access The making of black female revolutionaries - growing consciousness and change of identity in the autobiographies of Assata Shakur and Elaine Brown Jessica Menz,2008-06-02 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2006 in the subject American Studies Literature grade 1 15 University of Bayreuth language English abstract In this thesis I will first briefly outline general aspects of the autobiographical genre with emphasis on the tradition of life narratives written by African Americans As this thesis focuses on two autobiographies written by women I will also go into major characteristic aspects that distinguish their personal accounts from men s before introducing the autobiographies of Assata Shakur and Elaine Brown within the larger context Chapter three will be dedicated to a closer look on their works I will focus on Shakur s and Brown s representations of themselves as black women and their becoming revolutionaries within the dynamics of gender and power I will illustrate important aspects of their identity formation during childhood and adolescence e g family backgrounds school education ghetto life and their relationship to male age mates as well as their slow process of identity change due to growing critical awareness and introduction to the Black Power Movement I will also focus on whether and if yes how their current identity is again challenged within the Black Power Movement and especially within and outside of the Black Panther Party Lastly I will shortly concentrate on the autobiographies respective closures and how the two women see themselves directly after leaving organized struggle behind Brown or from exile several years later Shakur By writing their autobiographies Brown and Shakur take advantage of the opportunity to tell their version of the story How the two women create their identity and depict themselves retrospectively as being quite different from their public image will be the central focus of this paper

Mind in Nature Mark L. Johnson, Jay Schulkin, 2023-03-28 A dialogue between contemporary neuroscience and John Dewey's seminal philosophical work Experience and Nature exploring how the bodily roots of human meaning selfhood and values provide wisdom for living The intersection of cognitive science and pragmatist philosophy reveals the bodily basis of human meaning thought selfhood and values John Dewey's revolutionary account of pragmatist philosophy Experience and Nature 1925 explores humans as complex social animals developing through ongoing engagement with their physical interpersonal and cultural environments Drawing on recent research in biology and neuroscience that supports extends and on occasion reformulates some of Dewey's seminal insights embodied cognition expert Mark L. Johnson and behavioral neuroscientist Jay Schulkin develop the most expansive intertwining of Dewey's philosophy with biology and neuroscience to date The result is a positive life affirming understanding of how our evolutionary and individual development shapes who we are what we can know where our deepest values come from and how we can cultivate wisdom for a meaningful and intelligent life

Describing Ourselves Garry Hagberg, 2008-05-22 The voluminous writings of Ludwig Wittgenstein contain some of the most profound reflections of recent times on the nature of the human subject and self understanding the human condition philosophically speaking Describing Ourselves mines those extensive writings for a conception of the self that stands in striking contrast to its predecessors as well as its more recent alternatives More specifically the book offers a detailed discussion of Wittgenstein's later writings on language and mind as they hold special significance for the understanding and clarification of the distinctive character of self descriptive or autobiographical language Garry L. Hagberg undertakes a ground breaking philosophical investigation of selected autobiographical writings among the best examples we have of human selves exploring themselves as they cast new and special light on the critique of mind body dualism and its undercurrents in particular and on the nature of autobiographical consciousness more generally The chapters take up in turn the topics of self consciousness what Wittgenstein calls the inner picture mental privacy and the picture of metaphysical seclusion the very idea of our observation of the contents of consciousness first person expressive speech reflexive or self directed thought and competing pictures of introspection the nuances of retrospective self understanding person perception and the corollary issues of self perception itself an interestingly dangerous phrase self defining memory and the therapeutic conception of philosophical progress as it applies to all of these issues The cast of characters interwoven throughout this rich discussion include in addition to Wittgenstein centrally Augustine Goethe Dostoevsky Kierkegaard Iris Murdoch Donald Davidson and Stanley Cavell among others Throughout conceptual clarifications concerning mind and language are put to work in the investigation of issues relating to self description and in novel philosophical readings of autobiographical texts

The Three Paradigms of Consciousness, Personal Identity, Autobiography, the Novel and Loneliness Ben Lazare Mijuskovic, 1991      Autobiography Laura Marcus, 2018-07-19

Autobiography is one of the most popular of written forms From Casanova to Benjamin Franklin to the Kardashians individuals throughout history have recorded their own lives and experiences These personal writings are central to the work of literary critics philosophers historians and psychologists who have found in autobiographies from across the centuries not only an understanding of the ways in which lives have been lived but the most fundamental accounts of what it means to be a self in the world In this Very Short Introduction Laura Marcus defines what we mean by autobiography and considers its relationship with similar literary forms such as memoirs journals letters diaries and essays Analysing the core themes in autobiographical writing such as confession conversion and testimony romanticism and the journeying self Marcus discusses the autobiographical consciousness and the roles played by time memory and identity and considers the relationship between psychoanalysis and autobiography Exploring the themes of self portraiture and performance Marcus also discusses the ways in which fiction and autobiography have shaped each other ABOUT THE SERIES The Very Short Introductions series from Oxford University Press contains hundreds of titles in almost every subject area These pocket sized books are the perfect way to get ahead in a new subject quickly Our expert authors combine facts analysis perspective new ideas and enthusiasm to make interesting and challenging topics highly readable

The New Art of Autobiography Donald Phillip Verene, 1991 In this the first full length study of Vico s highly original autobiography Verene discusses its place in the history of autobiography generally and shows it to be the first work of modern intellectual autobiography which uses a genetic method The author views the autobiography as a work in which Vico applies the principles of human history discussed in New Science making the telling of his own life an application and verification of his own philosophy He places Vico s autobiography within the general development of the genre considering it in relation to Augustine s Confessions Descartes s Discourse and Rousseau s Confessions The author shows Vico to be not only the founder of the philosophy of history but also the originator of a philosophical art of self narrative which is the response by a modern thinker to the ancient problem of self knowledge

The Autobiographical Documentary Film in America James Martin Lane, 1991      Self-representational Approaches to Consciousness Uriah Kriegel, Kenneth Williford, 2006 Leading theorists examine the self representational theory of consciousness as an alternative to the two dominant reductive theories of consciousness the representational theory of consciousness and the higher order monitoring theory In this pioneering collection of essays leading theorists examine the self representational theory of consciousness which holds that consciousness always involves some form of self awareness The self representational theory of consciousness stands as an alternative to the two dominant reductive theories of consciousness the representational theory of consciousness RTC and the higher order monitoring HOM theory combining elements of both RTC and HOM theory in a novel fashion that may avoid the fundamental deficiencies of each Although self representationalist views have been common throughout the history of both Western and Eastern philosophy they have been largely neglected in the recent literature on consciousness This book approaches the self representational theory from a range of perspectives with contributions from scholars in analytic philosophy phenomenology and history of philosophy as well as two longer essays by Antonio Damasio and David Rudrauf and Douglas Hofstadter The book opens with six essays that argue broadly in favor of self representationalist views which are followed by five that argue broadly against them Contributors next consider connections to such philosophical issues as the nature of propositional attitudes knowledge attention and indexical reference Finally Damasio and Rudrauf link consciousness as lived with consciousness as described in neurobiological terms and Hofstadter compares consciousness to the strange loop of mathematical self reference brought to light by G del s incompleteness theorems Contributors Andrew Brook Peter Carruthers Antonio Damasio John J Drummond Jason Ford Rocco J Gennaro George Graham Christopher S Hill Douglas R Hofstadter Terry Horgan Tomis Kapitan Uriah Kriegel Keith Lehrer Joseph Levine Robert W Lurz David Rudrauf David Woodruff Smith John Tienson Robert Van Gulick Kathleen Wider Kenneth Williford Dan Zahavi
