The unrivalled collection of post-medieval British sculpture in the Victoria and Albert Museum is here catalogued and illustrated for the first time. Its great strengths lie in the works from the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries and virtually every major sculptor active during this period is represented among them: Nicholas Stone, John Michael Rysbrack, Louis Francois Roubiliac, Joseph Wilton, John Flaxman and Alfred Stevens. A total of 770 pieces by 189 sculptors are included, more than a third of which have never been published before. The catalogue, wide-ranging and scholarly, will serve both as an invaluable work of reference and in effect a history of the great tradition of sculpture in Britain.

The Victorian Nude Alison Smith, 1996. Examines the precarious position of art depicting nudes in the Victorian era in England. The author shows how the nude became one of the most prestigious categories within Victorian high art while at the same time arousing extremely bitter disputes. The focus is on the main debates surrounding the exhibition of nude art in public from 1830 through the 1880s, with particular emphasis placed on the year 1885 because of the social purity crusade that climaxed in that year. The author draws on letters to the editor, pamphlets and other primary sources for her research. Distributed by St Martin's Press. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc. Portland, OR.

Offering a biographical dictionary of the chasers, this volume is a major contribution to the study of English goldsmiths' work and of horology and is likely to become a standard work in the field.
