The Authoritative And The Authoritarian:

Social and Emotional Development in Infancy and Early Childhood Janette B. Benson, Marshall M. Haith, 2010-05-21

Research is increasingly showing the effects of family school and culture on the social emotional and personality development of children. Much of this research concentrates on grade school and above but the most profound effects may occur much earlier in the 0-3 age range. This volume consists of focused articles from the authoritative Encyclopedia of Infant and Early Childhood Development that specifically address this topic and collates research in this area in a way that isn't readily available in the existing literature covering such areas as adoption, attachment, birth order, effects of day care, discipline and compliance, divorce, emotion regulation, family influences, preschool routines, separation anxiety, shyness, socialization effects of television, etc. This one volume reference provides an essential, affordable reference for researchers, graduate students, and clinicians interested in social psychology and personality as well as those involved with cultural psychology and developmental psychology. Presents literature on influences of families, school and culture in one source, saving users time searching for relevant related topics in multiple places and literatures in order to fully understand any one area. Focused content on age 0-3 save time searching for and wading through lit on full age range for developmentally relevant info. Concise, understandable and authoritative for immediate applicability in research.

The Social Sciences

Empowered Ford Lumban Gaol, Fanny Hutagalung, Chew Fong Peng, 2020-04-14. The Social Sciences Empowered contains papers presented at the 7th International Congress on Interdisciplinary Behavior and Social Science 2018 (ICIBSoS 2018) held on 21-22 July 2018, Bangkok, Thailand; 22-23 September 2018, Bali, Indonesia; 6-7 October 2018, Kuta, Bali, Indonesia; and 24-25 November 2018, Yogyakarta, Indonesia. ICIBSoS 2018 provided the economic and social analysis necessary for addressing issues in Humanities disciplines such as Education, Sociology, Anthropology, Politics, History, Philosophy, Psychology, as well as food security. Contributions to these proceedings give necessary insight into the cultural and human dimension of such diverse research areas as transport, climate change, energy, and agriculture. ICIBSoS 2018 also analyses the cultural, behavioural, psychological, social, and institutional drivers that transform people's behaviour and the global environment. ICIBSoS 2018 proposes new ideas, strategies, and governance structures for overcoming the crisis from a global perspective, innovating the public sector and business models, promoting social innovation, and fostering creativity in the development of services and product design.

The Supreme Court in American Politics Howard Gillman,Cornell W. Clayton, 1999 For decades political scientists studying the Court have adopted behavioral approaches and focused on the relatively narrow question of how the justices policy preferences influence their voting behavior This emphasis has illuminated important aspects of Supreme Court politics but it has also left unaddressed many other important questions about this unique and fascinating institution Drawing on the new institutionalism in the social sciences the distinguished contributors to this volume attempt to fill this gap by exploring a variety of topics including the Court s institutional development and its relationship to broader political contexts such as party regimes electoral systems social movements social change legal precedents political identities and historically evolving economic structures The book s initial chapters examine the nature of the Court s distinctive norms as well as the development of its institutional powers and practice A second section relates the development of Supreme Court politics to the historical development of other political institutions and social movements Concluding chapters explore how its decision making in particular areas of law or periods of time is influenced by and influences its socio political milieu These contributions offer provocative insights regarding the Court s role in maintaining or disrupting political and economic structures as well as social structures and identities tied to ideology class race gender and sexual orientation The Supreme Court in American Politics shows how we can develop an enriched understanding of this institution and open up exciting new areas of research by placing it in the broader context of politics in the United States And God Knows the Soldiers

Khaled M. Abou El Fadl,2001-08-28 This is a substantially expanded edition of the author s seminal work The Authoritative and Authoritarian in Islamic Discourses A Contemporary Case Study Beginning with the case study of a Muslim basketball player who refused to stand up while the American national anthem was playing the author documents the disintegration of the Islamic juristic tradition and the prevalence of authoritarianism in contemporary Muslim discourses The author analyzes the rise of what he describes as puritan and despotic trends in modern Islam and asserts that such trends nullify the richness and diversity of the Islamic tradition By declaring themselves the true soldiers of God and the defenders of religion Muslim puritan movements are able to degrade women eradicate critical thinking and empty Islam of its moral content In effect the author argues the self declared protectors of Islam become its despots and oppressors who suppress the dynamism and vigor of the Islamic message Anchoring himself in the rich Islamic jurisprudential tradition the author argues for upholding the authoritativeness of the religious text without succumbing to authoritarian methodologies of interpretation Ultimately the author asserts that in order to respect the integrity of the Divine laws it is necessary to adopt rigorous analytical methodologies of interpretation and to re investigate the place of morality in modern Islam God and Man in the Law

Robert Lowry Clinton,1997 In a wide ranging study based on legal history political theory and philosophical ideas going all the way back to Plato and Roman law Robert Clinton challenges current faith in an activist judiciary Claiming that a human centered Constitution leads to government by reductive moral theory and illegitimate judicial review he advocates a return to traditional jurisprudence and a God centered Constitution grounded in English common law and its precedents

A reference for professionals and a text for such graduate or undergraduate courses as developmental Changing Boundaries of Parental Authority During Adolescence Judith G. Smetana, 2005-07-05 This volume describes research focusing on changes in different dimensions of parenting and conceptions of parental authority during adolescence. The seven chapters illuminate the dimensions of parenting that change or remain stable over the course of adolescence. The chapters also highlight the importance of considering variations in parenting according to the different domains of adolescents' lives, their relationships to the development of responsibility, autonomy, and how these are influenced by socioeconomic status, culture, and ethnicity. Thus the chapters in this volume provide new directions for conceptualizing variations in parenting over the second decade of life and their implications for adolescent adjustment and well-being. The authors point to the need for developmentally sensitive models of parenting that consider changes within domains over time, their influence on adolescent development and functioning, and potential asynchronies between parents and adolescents.
