The Hidden Terror:

The Hidden Terror Christopher E. Peck, 1997-01-01 Art and Politics of Film John Orr, 2019-08-06 The Art and Politics of Film is the final part of a critical trilogy that explores cinema in the latter half of the twentieth century. It fuses analysis of objective form in Cinema and Modernity with a subsequent critique of subjective form in Contemporary Cinema and reassesses the close ties of the aesthetic and the political right up to the present time. Film not only engages the question of power. Its narratives also dissect the conflicts between public and personal identity in a changing world. Different filmmakers take on different dimensions of this universal theme. The book examines the cinematic city in Kieslowski and Cronenberg, the cinema of wonder in Tarkovsky and Angelopoulos, the hyper-modern world of science fiction and horror, the time image in Resnais, Rivette, Lynch and Stone, and the art of identity in Jarman and Jordan. At the turn of the century, film is seen as a component of a hyper-modern culture which has displaced the modernist aesthetic of the 1960s and now plays a key role in our mapping of the information age. Features: Offers a theory of film as an art form framed by social and political change. Provides a critical assessment of the crisis of modernism and the role of the information age in the rise of hyper-modern film. Offers new insights into the rise and fall of the Cold War upon Hollywood genres and upon Eastern European cinema. Illuminates transformations of time, identity and sexuality in film narrative. Examines the interlocking roles of speed, space and paranoia in the renewal of the cinematic city. Beckett and Poststructuralism Anthony Uhlmann, 1999-09-02

In Beckett and Poststructuralism, Anthony Uhlmann offers a reading of Beckett in relation to French philosophy, particularly the work of Foucault, Deleuze and Guattari, Levinas and Derrida. Uhlmann offers a work of literary criticism that is also a piece of intellectual history, emphasizing how Beckett develops a kind of critical thinking which differs from yet is just as powerful as that of philosophers who, along with Beckett, found themselves faced with sets of ethical problems which were thrown into sharp relief in post-war France. Uhlmann explores the links between ethics and physical existence in Beckett, Foucault and Deleuze and Guattari, and between ethics and language in Beckett, Derrida and Levinas, showing how post-war French philosophy was powerfully affected by Beckett's work. Literature is not reduced to philosophy or vice versa; rather, Uhlmann considers how they interrelate and overlap, informing and deforming one another, and how both encounter history.

The Hidden Terror Michael Reyes, 2004-12-01 Joe thought he could get away with it but someone was watching. Justice from beyond is it possible? Does what goes around really come back around? Andrea forgot how to be honest. Now her dirty deeds from the past are coming back to unveil her for what she really is. Can looking in the mirror truly reveal us for who we really are? If so, is that something you'd really want to know? And Laura, well, she obviously played with powers which were far beyond her control. Can curiosity actually kill you? To answer these great questions of life, consider this. In the end, their stories all have one thing in common: the past never truly dies.
