Steenberg,2009-01-01 Scholarship in early Christianity has long focused on themes of theological doctrine on the one hand and anthropology on the other Doctrinal study has generally concentrated on the rise of Trinitarian language and Christological questions while anthropological studies explore early perceptions of human nature sin and redemption This has produced standard chronologies of doctrine dividing early Christian history into distinct if interrelated periods of history in the development of these views Building on current scholarship this volume re assesses such an approach to early patristic study through a sustained investigation of anthropology and theology as a single project in the fathers Taking Irenaeus of Lyons Tertullian of Carthage Cyril of Jerusalem and Athanasius of Alexandria as chief examples of the period it explores how concentration on the human provides the context and lens through which doctrinal questions are articulated Assessing theology as anthropology as the approach to doctrines of God through understandings of the human creative insight is gleaned into refined developments of trinitarian thought far earlier than Nicaea and advanced reflections on the divinity of the Holy Spirit long before Constantinople The nature of humanity as in the image of God takes on a fresh potency when it is approached not only as a window on the human but the means by which the human reveals the nature of God Symposium on Creation (JCR Vol. 1 No. 1) R. J. Rushdoony, Greg Bahnsen, Charles Clough, Bolton Davidheiser, George Howe, Roger Wagner, Dennis Johnson, Walter Lammerts, Stuart Nevins, Gary North, Vern Pythress, Cornelius Van Til, 2019-03-19 Specifics concerning creation are officially relegated into the realm of things indifferent to salvation or the life of the church Various perspectives serve as popular alternatives to the six day creation within circles that still concern themselves with the question of biblical inerrancy

The Image Men: Out of town John Boynton Priestley,1968 The Image of Man George Lachmann Mosse,1996 Men should be brave daring cool under fire and honourable Who says so This book by a major US historian sets out to show how our idea of manliness evolved and how long these qualities have been the norm The Bible Doctrine of Man, Or, The Anthropology and Psychology of Scripture John Laidlaw,1895 God Never Meant for Us to Die Pierre Gilbert,2020-04-21 The most incisive indictment against Christianity resides in the notion of a God who created a world in which there is untold suffering and death Is this the best God could do In response most Christians will mutter something about free will or the necessity of evil to bring about God s

plan for humanity Theologians often reply by challenging the very legitimacy of the question God only requires that we persevere Biblical scholars who might otherwise be expected to offer a scriptural perspective nervously denounce any suggestion that the presence of evil may have had something to do with a primordial couple and a fruit tree Is it any wonder that most people believe that evil must surely be an intractable component of human existence introduced perhaps by the very God Jews and Christians worship This book is a response to the problem of evil that unconditionally affirms the goodness and power of God Based on a new assessment of the Genesis creation story one of the greatest texts ever to have emerged in human history the author contends that God never intended for humanity to experience suffering and death
