

Public Speaking

*I'm not a performer or an orator
I've told you this many times,
But you behave as if you lacked understanding*

*Everybody has different abilities
It's unreasonable to expect everybody to be the same
Some people are speakers, others aren't*

*I'm an author, not a conversationalist
I don't want to be in the spotlight
And I don't like many eyes staring at me*

*You make me feel guilty and uncomfortable
Don't give me any assignments or responsibilities,
For I'm not a dependable person as I once was*

*I can't read or recite dramatically
I'm always tense when I stand before an audience
Even if I'm addressing people I know well*

*The performers alone can't make the show a success,
But you only praise the ones you see performing
You don't appreciate the work I do behind the scenes*

*I can't speak fluently due to a speech impediment,
So I have to avoid embarrassment
Public speaking is for people who can speak well*

*I don't like to engage in oral discussions
When I have an opinion of someone or something,
My writing figuratively does the talking for me*

Poems by William Wordsworth William Wordsworth, 1897 Longer English Poems John Wesley Hales, 1892

Lectures on Poetry John William Mackail, 1914 Yorkshire lyrics: poems written in the dialect as spoken in the west riding of Yorkshire John Hartley, 1911 Trying to Speak Anele Rubin, 2005 Winner of the 2004 Stan and Tom Wick Poetry Prize The voice in Anele Rubin's poems is so new and yet the movement is so artful subtle and modest there are never any theatrics in these poems They never yowl Pay attention to me Rubin is on the same wave length with Tomas Tranströmer and Yehuda Amichai The emotional range of her poems like theirs is enormous as is the range of locales many of which I know well and yet in Trying to Speak they appear with a clarity that had eluded me Philip Levine Judge Anele Rubin's poems illuminate an astonishing range of emotional experience Visual tactile simple and complex her words lure you from poem to poem sometimes exquisite sometimes austere always original Ruth Stone This is a powerful and beautifully lyrical book of great wisdom whose theme is emotional resurrection Toi Derricotte Essays on language and literature Friedrich Max Müller, 1895 past the stage of speaking Duncan Hurwood, 2021-08-01 Poems made for performance also speak from the page the verse in this collection was written to be spoken aloud with rhythm and language making the poetic out of the ordinary Included within over one hundred pieces of poetry from the 1990s are sixteen children's poems made of course to be performed aloud Sound Ideas B. Eugene McCarthy, Fran Quinn, 2013 Hearing and speaking are essential to making poems live Poems are a physical experience This book explains how to find your way to the heart of a poem by taking it off the page The authors have taught poetry successfully with this method for many years and now they share it beyond their own classrooms Taking poems off the page a teacher and a poet share their years of experience making poetry live Hard to believe that anyone serious about poetry either student or teacher wouldn't want to own this book Reading Sound Ideas is like being in a class with the best poet and teacher of your life McCarthy and Quinn are those poet teachers each having fallen in love with poetry each having given over their lives to its beauty and power And this book is that classroom one which comes alive with force and pleasure with their shared belief that poetry itself comes truly alive when one speaks and hears it when it enters the consciousness through that breath and release when it has the power to change lives This book offers something new and necessary in the study of poetry John Hogden Poetry weds the body to the soul and Sound Ideas is a superb introduction to the manifold ways in which poets touch us to the core of our being This should be required reading for anyone interested in poetry particularly for those who hope to make poems themselves A brilliant book Christopher Merrill Soundings Kit Wright, 1975 English Poetry and the English Language Frederick Wilse Bateson, 1973 The thesis advanced in this short book is that a proper understanding and appreciation of poetry is not obtained by investigating the particular poet's career or the nature of the society in which he has grown up. These are at best secondary considerations. It is the special uses to which he puts his society and personality in the language of his time that are ultimately decisive. The thesis is illustrated in a survey of English poetry from the Renaissance to the present day. In this third edition the opportunity has been taken to expand the argument and bring some of its details up to date.
