The Blacks A Clown Show:

The Blacks Jean Genet, 1994-01-18 An English translation of Genet's classic symbolic drama first performed in Paris in 1959. France's master of the absurd explores racial prejudice and stereotypes using the framework of a play within a play. The New York Times hailed The Blacks as one of the most original and stimulating evenings Broadway or Off Broadway has to offer while Newsweek raved that Genet's plays constitute a body of work unmatched for poetic and theatrical power. Genet's investigation of the color black begins where most plays of this burning theme leave off. This vastly gifted Frenchman uses shocking words and images to cry out at the pretensions and injustices of our world. Howard Taubman, The New York Times

The Blacks Stephen Thomas Gerald, 1977    The Blacks, a Clown Show Jean Genet, 1960 Using the framework of a play within a play it exposes racial prejudice and stereotypes while exploring black identity. As a troupe of black actors re-enact the trial and ensuing murder of a white woman before a kangaroo court the Queen and her entourage look on and comment. Five of the 13 black actors white up to play the establishment figures    The Black American Corning Community College. Arthur A. Harris Dickson, 1899    Black Theatre In 1960's-70's Mance Williams, 1985-08-22 Providing a comprehensive overview of the most daring and aggressive period in the history of Afro American theatre this study goes beyond an analysis of the major new playwrights and the plays that shaped the movement. The philosophies and dramatic styles of the most important theatre companies and the contributions of the individual artists who spearheaded their creation are also discussed. Finally the role of the Black producer who often functioned as director and writer as well is considered    The Tragicomic Passion Faye Ran, Faye Ran-Moseley, 1994 The Tragicomic Mode of literary discourse has become more prominent in the twentieth century than at any other previous time in Western literary history. Modern tragicomedy consists of four defining categories an inconclusive double perspective one lacking resolution reconciliation or restitution contradictory ambivalent or incongruous mood and effect a problematic and often protean protagonist and the incorporation of destabilizing and non-naturalistic modes or strategies such as surrealism absurdity fantasy and the grotesque. The dualistic nature of tragicomic creation perception and reflection has led to a whole new sense of character structure and the role of the protagonist or of the protagonist or hero. These new protagonists reject the notion of reality as a closed system with finite possibilities. There is a prismatic refraction of the rational and irrational the mundane and the transcendental the normative and the anomalous. Their ubiquitous presence in tragicomedy exemplifies our modern penchant for dialectical subversiveness and multifaceted indeterminacy. In twentieth century tragicomic drama film and literature writers dramatists and filmmakers invariably choose antinomian protagonists or fool figures to embody their explorations of the universal and tragicomic encounter of self and society    Catalog of the E.
