The Deceptionist:

Diversion and Deception Whitney T. Bendeck, 2021-03-04 Among the operations known as Plan Bodyguard the deception devised to cover the Allies Normandy landing was the little known but critical Plan Zeppelin the largest and most complex of the Bodyguard plans Zeppelin in conjunction with the Mediterranean Strategy succeeded in pinning down sixty German divisions from southern France to the Balkans in time for D Day This was the work of A Force Britain's only military organization tasked with carrying out both strategic and tactical deception in World War II Whitney T Bendeck's Diversion and Deception finds A Force at its finest hour as the war shifted from North Africa to Europe Focusing on the years 1943 to 1945 Bendeck describes how A Force under the leadership of Dudley Clarke orchestrated both strategic and tactical deception plans to create notional threats across the southern perimeter of Europe with the chief objective of keeping the Germans pinned down across the Mediterranean Her work offers a close and clarifying look at A Force's structure and command operations and methods and successes and failures and consequently its undeniable contribution to the Allies victory in World War II By shining a light on the often overlooked Mediterranean theater and its direct connection to European plans and operations Diversion and Deception also provides a deeper understanding of Allied grand strategy in the war Combining military and deception histories so often viewed in isolation this book provides context for the deceptions and adds a layer of knowledge regarding the planning of military operations The result is a more complete and nuanced view of Allied operations than is to be found in most histories of World War II The Oxford Handbook of Lying Jörg lay the path for a mutually informing and enriching dialogue across subfields and perceived barriers to doing pragmatics interculturally

Kearney, 2013-11-26 December 1999 and most people world wide were looking forward to the Millennium rollover into the year 2000 I was a normal married with kids middle aged standard South African guy with all my dreams for 2000 about to happen when one doctor shattered everything with the statement Did no one tell you that you have cancer The Radiation Raver is a name that was given to me by a very good friend after I survived 42 days of extreme radiation treatment for Stage Four Head and Neck cancer Today I had the bottom row of teeth extracted and false teeth fitted The noise coming from the linear accelerator was similar to that of a frustrated bee stuck in a bottle The problem was that I was inside the linear accelerator This machine that they put you in is quite something else Large and creepy All alone in the middle of the room One way windows all around No bright lights just the glow from the machine The story that follows is a documented journey of survival from diagnosis through the surgeries and complications to the point where we are today many years later This is my way of sharing my experience of cancer with the world Nobody ever ruined their eyes by looking on the bright side of things Enjoy Shaun K Kearney A K A The Radiation Raver September 2013

language English abstract Throughout this essay I explore the ways in which the memory loss of Trevor Reznik and Leonard Shelby can be seen as a symptom of guilt Whilst it may be drawn that Trevor s mental health is impacted by his insomnia and Leonard s condition is explained by the accident the complex narratives allow various readings through which it can be speculated that the tormented mental states of both men results in a process of self deception of which memory loss is a key element Throughout the films there are various clues in the form of flashbacks formative techniques and the doubling of personality which suggests their guilty conscience plays a prominent role in their amnesia Whilst the protagonists lives are controlled by their inability to remember their memory loss can be seen as a coping mechanism to shield traumatic events of their personal history from their current selves In all I discuss how the abnormal mental states of the protagonists can be seen as a result of psychological trauma and a guilty conscience through which their subsequent memory loss is used in a process of deception
