

Special Educational Needs And Disability Reforms

What do the reforms mean?

The SEND reforms will mean you will be more involved in the decisions that affect you and your child. No-one should lose the support or services they need as a result of the changes.

Will the assessments be quicker?

The Education, Health and Care (EHC) plan must be finalised within 20 weeks of the request for an assessment, compared to 26 weeks for statements. Your school and council must work with you as a full partner through the process.

Who will be given an EHC plan?

The law about who is eligible has not changed. If your child is currently on a statement and still requires one, then they will be given an EHC plan.

What happens to my child's statement?

All existing statements will continue to have legal force beyond September 2014 until they are transferred over to a new EHC plan.

How will progress be reviewed?

The legal duties on schools remain the same - they are still required to keep and share records of a child or young person's progress, the support they have and the impact it has had on the individual.

"Top Tip" Have you tried one-page profiles? They are very popular with parents, so check with your school to see if they can share any templates with you, or try this link: <http://bit.ly/OnePP>

Will there be a better choice of schools?

The new system improves the range of school choices for those on EHC plans, including independent schools and independent specialist providers for which parents and children can express a preference. Councils have a duty to provide the support needed for any young person with SEND.

Will Special Educational Needs Coordinators (SENCOs) be able to offer adequate support for my child's needs?

Each SENCO is specially qualified to support other teachers to develop their expertise and ensure individual pupils' needs are addressed. The SEND Code of Practice is clear that every teacher is a teacher of children with special educational needs.

What happens if you go to college?

You can take your EHC plan with you. No-one should lose out just because they are moving from school to college.

Will I still have Higher Education support?

Students will continue to have a comprehensive assessment of what support they need. The EHC plan can be used to determine what those needs are.

Will Independent Supporters be available from September?

Independent Supporters will be people from the local area, ready and trained to help families through the changes to the system from September 2014. Councils are responsible for making sure information, advice and support is available in their area, not just about special educational needs, but also about disabilities, health and social care.

How can I get a personal budget?

You have the right to request a personal budget from your council when you have been assessed as needing an EHC plan or doing a review of an existing plan. Independent Supporters can help you with this process.

"Top Tip" Information on how to request a personal budget and what it can do for you will be set out in your council's local offer.

Special Educational Needs In Practice

Alan Hodkinson

Special Educational Needs In Practice:

Special Educational Needs in Practice Selena Ledgerton, 2012 Special Educational Needs in Practice offers practical professional advice on including children with special educational needs in early childhood settings. It covers a broad range of physical, intellectual, sensory, developmental, behavioural and learning conditions with contributions from experts in each field. Clear explanations of how each condition manifests are followed by advice on what settings can do to ensure these conditions are not a barrier to children's learning and social engagement. The book also includes a comprehensive section on therapies so as to introduce new ideas on helping children with special needs to obtain full benefit from their early years care and education.

Special Educational Needs in Practice, 2002 Experiencing Special Educational Needs and Disability: Lessons for Practice Brahm Norwich, 2017-05-16

Covering a wide range of special educational needs and disabilities, this book examines the perspectives of teachers, teaching assistants, children and parents with a focus on specific educational aspects such as curriculum and pedagogy. Referencing recent policy changes in the special needs and inclusive education context, the book offers an introduction to the special needs and inclusive education field for teachers, SEN Coordinators and other allied professionals, e.g. speech and communication therapists, educational psychologists as well as parents and policy makers. By examining the lived experience of parents, teachers and children, young people with special educational needs, disability in education, illustrating some of their experienced tensions and how they deal with them, exploring the significance of these experiences for policy and practice. The book features 12 engaging case studies that are based on in-depth interviews with parents, teachers or teaching assistants and children or young people exploring their experiences as regards their education. These accounts emphatically highlight positive models of practice as well as negative practices to avoid. In this way, the book contributes to the professional learning of teachers and allied professionals. In this thoughtful book, real people's stories told are direct and share the tensions, dilemmas, balances and dynamics of life. It is a very thought-provoking book and an excellent addition to the field. Dr Graeme Douglas, Professor of Disability and Special Educational Needs, University of Birmingham, UK. An invaluable book about the importance of getting to know each and every child, comprising up-to-date case studies that contextualise the experiences of 12 learners identified with special educational needs. Professor Lani Florian Bell, Chair of Education, University of Edinburgh, UK. In the era of person-centred planning, this book is a timely and essential key text for both general and specialist practitioners working for children and young people with special educational needs and/or disability. Professor Norwich is to be highly commended for providing this original, scholarly and useful research to the international field of special education. Professor Kevin Woods, Professor of Educational and Child Psychology, University of Manchester, UK. Norwich skilfully presents the perspectives of the young people themselves, their parents and the teachers and teaching assistants who support them. These careful, illuminating accounts bring to life the realities, complexities, challenges and also the positive aspects of the young people themselves and those that

care and support them Required reading for all who work with children with SEND Professor Geoff Lindsay Centre for Educational Development Appraisal and Research CEDAR University of Warwick UK
