Spectacular Realities Vanessa R. Schwartz, 1998-01-25 During the second half of the nineteenth century Paris emerged as the entertainment capital of the world The sparkling redesigned city fostered a culture of energetic crowd pleasing and multi sensory amusements that would apprehend and represent real life as spectacle Vanessa R Schwartz examines the explosive popularity of such phenomena as the boulevards the mass press public displays of corpses at the morgue wax museums panoramas and early film Drawing on a wide range of written and visual materials including private and business archives and working at the intersections of art history literature and cinema studies Schwartz argues that spectacular realities are part of the foundation of modern mass society She refutes the notion that modern life produced an unending parade of distractions leading to alienation and instead suggests that crowds gathered not as dislocated spectators but as members of a new kind of crowd one united in pleasure rather than protest Spectacular Realities Vanessa R. Schwartz, 1998 An exciting innovative and significant work The author points to how the crowd experience transcended class and gender divisions and was transformed from acts of collective violence into acts of collective consumption Michael B Miller author of Shanghai on the M tro Entertaining Lisbon Joao Silva, 2016-09-01 Entertaining Lisbon explores Portuguese entertainment as a form of negotiation between local national and transnational influences on identity Connecting gender class ethnicity and technology with theatrical repertoires street sounds and domestic music making author Jo o Silva investigates popular entertainment in Portugal and its connections with modern life and the rise of nationalism An essential contribution to the literature on Portuguese music written in the English language Entertaining Lisbon is a critical study for scholars and students of musicology interested in Portugal and popular and theatrical musics as well as historical ethnomusicologists cultural historians and urban planning researchers interested in the development of material culture The Science of Proof E. Claire Cage, 2022-09-01 The Science of Proof traces the rise of forensic medicine in late eighteenth and nineteenth century France and examines its implications for our understanding of expert authority Tying real life cases to broader debates the book analyzes how new forms of medical and scientific knowledge many of which were pioneered in France were contested but ultimately accepted and applied to legal problems and the administration of justice The growing authority of medical experts in the French legal arena was nonetheless subject to sharp criticism and scepticism The professional development of medicolegal expertise and its influence in criminal courts sparked debates about the extent to which it could reveal truth furnish legal proof and serve justice Drawing on a wide base of archival and printed sources Claire Cage reveals tensions between uncertainty about the reliability of forensic evidence and a new confidence in the power of scientific inquiry to establish guilt innocence and legal responsibility Nineteenth-Century Serial Narrative in Transnational Perspective, 1830s–1860s Daniel Stein, Lisanna Wiele, 2019-05-24 This volume examines the emergence of modern popular culture between the 1830s and the 1860s when popular storytelling meant serial storytelling and when new printing techniques and an expanding infrastructure brought serial entertainment to the masses Analyzing fiction and non fiction narratives from the United States France Great Britain Germany Austria Turkey and Brazil Popular Culture Serial Culture offers a transnational perspective on border crossing serial genres from the roman feuilleton and the city mystery novel to abolitionist gift books and world s fairs      Jews in an Illusion of Paradise Norman Simms,2018-01-23 These further six chapters of Jews in an Illusion of Paradise now focus on individual exemplary figures and clusters of poets dramatists critics journalists art historians Jews whose achievements were once celebrated but now are almost all but forgotten not because of changes in aesthetic taste or style but because of social political and other ideological issues The book continues to examine the clash between their conscious and unconscious self presentation as Jews in a culture that wilfully or inadvertently misunderstood or rejected this aspect of otherness the men and women represented from the mid nineteenth to the mid twentieth centuries Whereas the first volume concentrated on the themes images and rhetorical motifs of this awkward status of Jewish intellectuals and artists here the ambiguous personalities and repressed anxieties of the exemplary figures are stressed For millennia Jews were considered outside of normal history passive victims of persecution then suddenly with Emancipation they fell into history and out of their mythical place in the scheme of things Everything seemed to crumble into dust and ashes      Murder in Parisian Streets Thomas Cragin,2006 In Murder in Parisian Streets Thomas Cragin provides an in depth study of the production sale and content of the canards He demonstrates their significance to nineteenth century culture even their role in determining the emerging tabloid s success Cragin explores the incremental creation of textual meaning in the canards authorship production distribution and consumption He exposes the power of oral traditions as well as modern marketing at work upon this popular news literature The canards challenge our assumptions about the nineteenth century s revolution in print and reorient our understanding of cultural creation through textual construction Jacket      Theatrical Illusions Gina Marie Greene,2006      Becoming Metropolitan Nathaniel D.
