WHAT KIDS LEARN IN PUBLIC SPEAKING CLASS

A public speaking course can help children develop confidence in their communication skills.

Most communication skills classes for kids will focus on teaching the following skills:

Confidence

One of the most important things public speaking courses can teach students is confidence. Children who are shy or lack confidence will benefit significantly from learning to speak in front of others.

Communication Skills

Speaking classes can help children learn how to communicate more effectively, including articulating their thoughts and feelings and learning active listening skills.

Thinking on their Feet

In a public speaking class, students will learn how to think on their feet and speak off the cuff. This valuable skill will come in handy in many situations, such as job interviews and networking events.

Leadership Skills

Public speaking can also help children develop leadership skills. Children who can stand up in front of a group and give a speech are more likely to be successful leaders in their future careers.

Speech Communications from an Information Theory Viewpoint John David Griffiths, SYRACUSE UNIV N.Y., 1965. Speech is treated as a sequence of discrete code elements, the phonemes. The entropy of phonemes and spoken words is examined as a function of the length of intersymbol influence and size of spoken vocabulary. Bounds for word entropy are established in certain cases. Using the known perceptual cues of the phonemes and their characteristics a decision sequence is constructed to uniquely determine any phoneme Using the spectral composition of these cues as reported in the literature permits the calculation of an information spectral density for each phoneme Using the information rate spectral density and the power spectral density of speech an optimum linear filter for processing speech prior to transmission through a power limited channel with additive Gaussian noise is derived If the noise is also white and small compared to the signal the square of the absolute value of the filter transfer function is found to be proportional to the information rate spectral density divided by the speech power spectral density A new approach to the design of non linear filters amplitude limiters for speech is also discussed     Automatic Control and Computer Sciences ,1991     The Basics of Speech Communication Scott A.
