The Anthrax Letters A Medical Detective Story:

The Anthrax Letters Leonard A. Cole, 2003 At 2 00am on October 2 2001 Robert Stevens entered a hospital emergency room Feverish nauseated and barely conscious no one knew what was making him sick It was the doctors and public health officials who solved this medical mystery Stevens was the first fatal victim of bioterrorism in America The events of September 11th and the anthrax attacks that followed only three weeks later were horrifying Many of us felt we were living in a world gone mad Already shaken by the images of jetliners deliberately flown into the Twin Towers at the World Trade Center we were soon scared to open our mail No longer could we look forward to birthday wishes or holiday postcards We couldn't even safely face the delivery of our monthly bills We had now become literally afraid of the microbial menace that could be lurking in our mailboxes This time terror had struck close to home to everyone's home But behind the panic and the politics was a key line of defense While the police and FBI frantically investigated a crime there were other professionals at work conducting their own painstaking inquiry medical and scientific detectives hot on the trail of deadly organisms deliberately set loose in the postal system Modern heroes in a quickly changing world the public health officials physicians researchers and scientists who staff our hospitals clinics and laboratories will be the first responders on the scene of any future biowarfare event Conducting his own detective work bioterrorism expert Leonard Cole has composed a series of fascinating stories that get to the heart of all the noisy sound bites and hysterical headlines Cole is the only person outside law enforcement to have interviewed every one of the surviving inhalation anthrax victims along with the relatives friends and associates of those who died as well as the public health officials scientists researchers hospital workers and treating physicians indeed anyone who has something of value to add to the story Speaking through their voices the narrative reflects the tension and emotions stirred by the events from the fall of 2001 Fast paced and riveting this minute by minute chronicle of the anthrax attacks recounts more than a history of recent current events it uncovers the untold and perhaps even more important story of how scientists doctors and researchers perform life saving work under intense pressure and public scrutiny The Anthrax Letters amply demonstrates how vulnerable America and the world really were in 2001 It also shows quite clearly how scientific research promises to strengthen our ability to address the challenges we must meet in the future

Anthrax Letters, 2003      Medical Response to Terror Threats Aaron Richman, Shmuel C. Shapira, Yair Sharan, 2010 We do not automatically associate the practice of medicine with al Qaeda or weapons of mass destruction yet medical practitioners increasingly play their part in the war against terrorism Called to risk their own lives in order to help others they are always among those first responders who must overcome their natural instinct to get away and instead rush to the scene of any fresh terror attack to offer what aid they can to the victims The successful medical response to terror threats requires regular training and accurate information This book is one product of the NATO workshop Terror Medicine held in Jerusalem in 2008 The twelve chapters were written by the subject matter experts who led this workshop and topics covered include assessment of medical threats in various types of terrorist attack the special medical threat of suicide bombings the unique epidemiology of terrorist attacks management of terror related mass casualty events MCE analysis of case studies and best practices as well as lessons learned and standard operating protocol SOP expertise Reflecting multiple lifetimes worth of experience and research and providing expert analysis to the professionals who must respond to the hazards threats and injuries caused by terrorism this book is an important addition to the resources of those who continue to fight global terrorism with their medical skills as well as being of interest to all who support them in that fight

A New Understanding of Terrorism M.R. Haberfeld, Agostino Hassell, 2009-07-09 Terrorism is a complex phenomenon that cannot be understood through reading of a number of unrelated academic articles or a dry overview of the history of terrorism or the investigative techniques For A New Understanding of Terrorism the Editors have chosen a different paradigm They have selected numerous case studies from actual events that illustrate various typologies of terrorist actions be it from a separatist nationalist lone wolf individual terrorist religious fanatics or environmentalist orientation and they present these cases within the context of following the trajectories of the terrorist activity the terrorist act itself and the response to the event from the relevant authorities Some chapters concentrate on terrorist attacks that actually took place others speculate about the possibilities of an attack occurring sometime in the future such as the chapters on the Olympic Games Aviation or Rail Security When possibilities rather than a specific event are discussed the authors of these chapters draw the attention of the reader towards the same direction the reasoning the actual event and the response that followed The thorough analysis of the presented case studies and the applied counter measures will hopefully if not curtail then possibly at least mitigate the operational and ideological strength of terrorist groups or individual actors A New Understanding of Terrorism will enable the reader to make the connection between the emotional charge inherent in any terrorist activity the cold blooded tactics that lead to the terrorist event itself and the pragmatic and very straightforward but at the same time very simplistically designed strategic response that has to come from a synergy between academics military and law enforcement brainstorming design in order to be more effective in the future

ABOUT THE EDITORS M R Maki Haberfeld is a Professor of Police Science at John Jay College of Criminal Justice in New York City She has worked for the U S Drug Enforcement Administration in the New York Field Office as a special consultant Prior to that she has served in a counter terrorist unit in the Israeli Defense Forces and she left the army at the rank of Sergeant She was also a lieutenant in the Israel National Police For the past eight years Dr Haberfeld has been involved in developing coordinating and teaching in a special training program for the New York City Police Department where she teaches courses in police ethics leadership and counter terrorism She was also an Academic Coordinator of the Law Enforcement Executive Police Institute for the State of New York where she taught modules on counter terrorism response Agostino von Hassell is the president of The Repton Group LLC a New York City based consulting group that deals mostly with national security issues He has written numerous political and historical

Understanding Biological Emergencies Paula Stamps Duston, 2024-11-05 This book investigates the links between the main sources of biological emergencies and presents a comprehensive policy framework that seeks to achieve the ultimate goal of biological security The work offers a new interdisciplinary approach to analyse the linkages between the three main sources of biological emergencies intentional attacks natural zoonotic transmission and lab accidents In doing so the text describes the history of using nature to create a weapon focusing on dispersal methods The most important Select Agents for monitoring are described with a special focus on anthrax and smallpox The case studies presented include the use of the Biological Weapons Convention BWC in Iraq and the 2001 anthrax attack in the US The policies that created the emergency preparedness system are analysed and the current system is described in terms of their effectiveness in responding to the COVID 19 pandemic The book concludes with some ideas and specific suggestions for moving from response to risk reduction and prevention This book will be of much interest to students of biosecurity studies public health public policy political science and international relations and to professionals working in the fields of public health public safety medicine nursing and first responders as well as military personnel

Bioterror R. William Johnstone, 2008-09-30 This book uses the 2001 anthrax attacks as its point of departure for an analysis of the past present and future of America s preparedness to deal with major challenges to public health including bioterrorism and pandemic flu The study identified the strength and weaknesses of the system while making recommendations for improvements This allows the U S to be better prepared if faced with a larger or different biological threat This book looks for linkages not only between bioterrorists and pandemic defenses but also between public health security and the wider field of homeland security Johnstone highlights some key foundation plans and strategies that are to serve as a basis for public health security Failure to address these crucial issues not only creates unfounded mandates but also inhibits priority setting leadership and accountability

Bioterror Anthrax Influenza and the Future of Public Health Security utilizes a large number of sources from within both the public health and public policy communities to document how each sector responded to the anthrax attacks and re emergent infectious diseases and how those responses have evolved to the present day As with other areas of homeland security sustained progress in public health security is not likely until basic questions about funding priorities and leadership are successfully addressed In the response to the only mass casualty event in the United States since 2001 Hurricane Katrina and in various emergency simulation exercises such as TOPOFF series major performance deficiencies have been observed This book brings together a variety of sources the best available evidence on the status of the public health security system at three distinct points before 2001 during and immediately after the anthrax attacks and in the period from 2004 to the present Army Chemical Review, 2007 Terrorism, War, or Disease? Anne Clunan, Peter R. Lavoy, Susan B. Martin, 2008-05-30 The use of biological warfare BW agents by states or terrorists is one of the world's most frightening security threats but thus far little attention has been devoted to understanding how to improve policies and procedures to identify and attribute BW events Terrorism War or Disease is the first book to examine the complex political military legal and scientific challenges involved in determining when BW have been used and who has used them Through detailed analysis of the most significant and controversial allegations of BW use from the Second World War to the present internationally recognized experts assess past attempts at attribution of unusual biological events and draw lessons to improve our ability to counter these deadly silent killers This volume presents the most comprehensive analysis of actual and alleged BW use and provides an up to date evaluation of law enforcement forensic epidemiology and arms control measures available to policymakers to investigate and attribute suspected attacks Local Planning for Terror and Disaster Leonard A. Cole, Nancy D. Connell, 2012-08-06 Local Planning for Terror and Disaster gives voice to experts in key fields involved with local preparedness assessing the quality of preparedness in each field and offering directions for improvement Introductory chapters provide overviews of terror medicine security and communications which are indispensable to successful preparedness while subsequent chapters concentrate on a particular field and how responders from that field communicate and interact with others during and after an event Thus a chapter by a physician discusses not only the doctor's role but how that role is or should be coordinated with emergency medical technicians and police Similarly chapters by law enforcement figures also review police responsibilities and interactions with nurses EMTs volunteers and other relevant responders Developed from topics at recent Symposia on Terror Medicine and Security Local Planning also encompasses aspects of emergency and disaster medicine as well as techniques for diagnosis rescue coordination and security that are distinctive to a terrorist attack Each chapter also includes a case study that demonstrates preparedness or lack thereof for a real or hypothetical event including lessons learned next steps and areas for improvement in this global era which increasingly calls for preparedness at a local level The SAGE Encyclopedia of Terrorism, Second Edition Gus Martin, 2011-06-15 Six years after publication of the first edition of the best selling Encyclopedia of Terrorism much has changed on the national security scene Despite the dark promises of Osama bin Laden following the 9/11 attacks the United States has not experienced any major domestic terror incidents Al Qaeda itself is believed to be a severely crippled organization But while U.S. wars in Afghanistan and Iraq not to mention the arrival of the Obama administration a new balance of power within Congress and an increasingly fragile economic picture have significantly affected the national security picture the threat of economic chaos and massive loss of life due to terror attacks has not abated Indeed in July 2008 analysts pointed out that even a relatively small terrorist organization could present a dire threat with some experts arguing that a biological chemical or even nuclear attack on a major U S city is all but inevitable In this highly charged rapidly shifting environment we are pleased to present the The SAGE Encyclopedia of Terrorism Second Edition a thoroughly updated and expanded edition of the original highly regarded reference work Nearly 100 000 words of new material will be added along with fully updated original entries and expanded coverage New introductory essays will explore the impact of terrorism on economics public health religion and even pop culture Ethical issues such as the role of torture in interrogations competing notions of security versus liberty and the debates over FISA legislation and Guantanamo Bay will also be covered Two dozen entries on significant recent events such as the London bombings Chechen attacks on Russian interests and the rescue of Ingrid Bettancourt and some 60 additional new entries will restore the work as an up to the minute natural first stop for researchers

Microbial Forensics Bruce Budowle, Steven E. Schutzer, Stephen A. Morse, 2019-11-30 Microbial Forensics Third Edition serves as a complete reference on the discipline describing the advances challenges and opportunities that are integral in applying science to help solve future biocrimes New chapters include Microbial Source Tracking Clinical Recognition Bioinformatics and Quality Assurance This book is intended for a wide audience but will be indispensable to forensic scientists and researchers interested in contributing to the growing field of microbial forensics Biologists and microbiologists the legal and judicial system and the international community involved with Biological Weapons Treaties will also find this volume invaluable Presents new and expanded content that includes a statistical analysis of forensic data legal admissibility and standards of evidence Discusses actual cases of forensic bioterrorism Includes contributions from editors and authors who are leading experts in the field with primary experience in the application of this fast growing discipline

Maritime Counterproliferation Operations and the Rule of Law Craig H. Allen, 2007-06-30 Allen examines the maritime counterproliferation activities of nations participating in the Proliferation Security Initiative as set out in their Statement of Interdiction Principles He explains the framework for conducting maritime interception activities examines the importance of intelligence to PSI operations and assesses the legal issues raised by those operations The threat of WMD use by terrorist groups and rogue regimes has added new urgency to global security discussions Responses to the dangers posed by WMD include the nonproliferation regime safeguards for WMD materials while in transit export controls treaties on terrorism Security Council resolutions and the new Protocol to the Convention for the Suppression of Unlawful Acts Against the Safety of Maritime Navigation The existing nonproliferation regime will never by itself provide an adequate level of security As a result risk management strategies must include layered counterproliferation activities and consequence management Counterproliferation measures may include maritime interdictions The Proliferation Security Initiative a cooperative undertaking launched in 2003 provides a framework for those interdictions The framework was formalized in the Statement of Interdiction Principles After providing an overview of the threats posed by WMD proliferation this book surveys the nonproliferation regime and counterproliferation measures states have adopted to supplement it It next provides an overview of maritime interception operations and the intelligence issues surrounding them before turning to the laws governing such operations It then examines each of the actions described in the PSI Statement of Interdiction Principles to assess their compliance with applicable laws Finally it looks at the laws that establish the responsibility of states for taking unwarranted counterproliferation actions against vessels
