The Art Of Ajanta New Perspectives

Stephen F. Teiser

The Art Of Ajanta New Perspectives:

The Art of Ajanta Ratan Parimoo, 1991 Ajanta: History and Development, Volume 7 Bagh, Dandin, Cells and Cell Doorways Walter Spink, 2017-01-09 Walter Spink's intense concern with the development of the Ajanta caves and their architectural sculptural and painted features finds its most insistent reflection in his present richly illustrated study. In part 1 Spink explains the many connections between the Bagh caves and its sister site Ajanta. He particularly emphasizes the leading role that Bagh plays in establishing the short chronology and in the crucial matter of Buddhist shrine development from the aniconic to iconic forms of worship. In part 2 along with his colleague Professor Naomichi Yaguchi who also provided the photographs and the newly informative plans the authors show how over the course of a mere decade better and better ways were discovered to fit the doors in the cells where the monks lived. Such an analysis reveals the vigor of the conceptual and technical changes that characterize Ajanta's evolution from its start in the early 460s to its traumatic collapse in about 470. Moving from Ajanta's beginning to its ending the evolution of door fittings parallels the precise and dramatic development of Indian history in the remarkable course of the emperor Harisena's reign.

The Art of Ajanta Ratan Parimoo, 1991 Ajanta, Handbook of the Paintings Dieter Schlingloff, 2013 The Vākāṭaka Heritage, 2021-11-01 In what is often considered to be the heyday of classical Indian culture the 4th and 5th centuries AD the dynasty of the Vākāṭakas emerged as one of the major patrons of religion and art. Covering the greater part of the northern Deccan the Vākāṭaka kingdoms were situated at the crossroads of the main north-south and west-east caravan routes. This situation in the heart of the South Asian subcontinent may partly explain the prosperity of the Vākāṭaka kingdoms and certainly accounts for their cultural diversity and richness to which the Hindu temples on and around the Ramagiri Ramtek Hill and the Buddhist Caves at Ajanta still bear witness. Here at the crossroads of the Indo-Aryan north and Dravidian south the northern culture of the Gupta kingdom reached the Deccan and developed a character of its own. The articles collected in this volume intend to augment our knowledge of how the Vākāṭaka culture came into being which forces and influences contributed to its flourishing and how its achievements informed the historical and cultural developments after its fall. Richly illustrated contributions address the Vākāṭaka Heritage from a variety of disciplines: history Kulke von Stietencron, archaeology Kennet, numismatics Raven, political and religious history Willis Bakker, iconography Brown Yokochi and art history Williams. Spink, Wood, Stadtner and Nigam.

Sacred Landscapes in Asia, 2024-01-01 Throughout history the peoples of Asia have been known for their mobility and interactions. The notion of territorially defined nations is historically recent. There was a continuing dialogue between Asian cultures which functioned at both the spatial and the temporal level propelled by the movement of the great religions of Asia across continents via trading communities, clergies, Buddhist and Sufi scholars and communities of artisans. The present volume explores the aesthetic theories underlying many genres of the Asian arts. These characterize the dialogue between and amongst different Asian regions. The same Asian notions of space and time are manifested in architectural form.

as also in a wide variety of visual arts The contributors in this volume identify the multi layered discourse comprising the nature of monuments as also the movement of motifs and symbols through sculptured and picturised representation Some essays focus on fundamental notions such as nyata as common to the Indian Korean and other Asian countries Also the papers bear testimony to the phenomena of dialogue and distinctiveness continuity and change This is evident in architectural structures sculptural forms particularly in iconography and of course in the performing arts The IIC Asia Project in its second phase has with purpose traced the trajectory of transmission systems in Asian civilization in different domains and at different levels be it the vertical transmission from generation to generation in education or the artistic transmission and diffusion through the arts It is hoped that this volume will add to the meager literature that exists on the subject and will stimulate further research and study

Reinventing the Wheel Stephen F. Teiser, 2006 Awarded the Prix Stanislas Julien by the Academie des Inscriptions et Belles Lettres The Wheel of Rebirth is one of the most basic and popular images in Buddhist visual culture For nearly two thousand years artists have painted it onto the porches of Buddhist temples preachers have used it to explain karmic retribution and philosophers have invoked it to illuminate the contrast between ignorance and nirvana In Reinventing the Wheel noted scholar Stephen F Teiser explores the history and varied interpretations of the Wheel of Rebirth a circle divided into sections depicting the Buddhist cycle of transmigration Combining visual evidence with textual sources Reinventing the Wheel shows how the metaphor of the wheel has been interpreted in divergent local traditions from India to Tibet Central Asia and China Teiser deftly shows how written and painted renditions of the wheel have animated local architectural sites and religious rituals informing concepts of time and reincarnation and acting as an organizing principle in the cosmology and daily life of practicing Buddhists Engaging and accessible this uniquely pan Buddhist tour will appeal to anyone interested in Buddhist culture as well as to scholars of religious studies art history architecture philosophy and textual studies
