King,2021-10-23 This book seeks to break new ground both empirically and conceptually in examining discourses of identity formation and the agency of critical social practices in Malaysia Taking an inclusive cultural studies perspective it questions the ideological narrative of race and ethnicity that dominates explanations of conflicts and cleavages in the Malaysian context The contributions are organised in three broad themes Identities in Contestation Borders Complexities and Hybridities takes a range of empirical studies literary translation religion gender ethnicity indigeneity and sexual orientation to break down preconceived notions of fixed identities. This then opens up an examination of Identities and Movements Agency and Alternative Discourses in which contributors deal with counter hegemonic social movements of anti racism, young people environmentalism and independent publishing that explicitly seek to open up greater critical democratic space within the Malaysian polity. The third section Identities and Narratives Culture and the Media then provides a close textual reading of some exemplars of new cultural and media practices found in oral testimonies, popular music, film, radio programming and storytelling who have consciously created bodies of work that question the dominant national narrative. This book is a valuable interdisciplinary work for advanced students and researchers interested in representations of identity and nationhood in Malaysia and for those with wider interests in the fields of critical cultural studies and discourse analysis. Here is a fresh startling book to aid the task of unbinding the straitjackets of Malay, Chinese and Indian with which colonialism bound Malaysia's plural inheritance and on which the postcolonial state continues to rely. In it a panoply of unlikely identities Bajau liminality, Kelabit philosophy, Islamic feminism, refugee hybridity and more finds expression and offers hope for liberation. Rachel Leow (University of Cambridge) This book shakes the foundations of race thinking in Malaysian studies by expanding the range of cases, perspectives and outcomes of identity. It offers students of Malaysia an examination of identity and agency that is expansive, critical and engaging and its interdisciplinary depth brings Malaysian studies into conversation with scholarship across the world. Sumit Mandal (University of Nottingham, Malaysia) This is a much needed work that helps us to take apart the colonial inherited categories of race which informed the notion of the plural society, the idea of plurality without multiculturalism. It complicates the picture of identity by bringing in religion, gender, indigeneity and sexual orientation and helps us to imagine what a truly multiculturalist Malaysia might look like. Syed Farid Alatas (National University of Singapore) Language Choice in Interracial Marriages: The Case of Filipino-Malaysian Couples Francisco Perlas Dumanig, 2010-10-19. Language choice has become a common phenomenon in interracial encounters in which speakers are always faced with the challenge of choosing an appropriate language in various domains of communication. In multilingual and multiracial societies, language choice can sometimes be crucial because of its social, political and economic impact on the speakers. Even in the smallest unit of a society which is the family, language choice plays an important role, particularly in interactions between husbands and wives who come from different linguistic and cultural backgrounds. It is therefore the objective of this research to examine the language choice in interracial couples' communication. More specifically, this research examines the language choice accommodation strategies and code switching patterns in verbal communication of Filipino Malaysian couples in the home domain. Furthermore, this study explores the occurrence of language choice in relation to ethnicity, first language and gender. To carry out the study, 60 spouses consisting of Filipino, Malay, Filipino, Malaysian, Chinese and Filipino, Malaysian, Indian couples were interviewed and given questionnaires which include the socio demographic profile, language choice and accommodation strategies used. Data were collected using the qualitative approach by interviewing and recording the conversations of Filipino Malaysian couples To support the qualitative findings a quantitative approach based on the questionnaire results was also used The findings of the study reveal that Filipino Malaysian couples prefer English as their medium of communication at home with some switching to Bahasa Malaysia Chinese and Filipino languages The couples preference of English is prevalent although none of them considered English as their first language Their mother tongue becomes the secondary preference which is evident in the use of code switching The findings further reveal that couples language choice is influenced by ethnicity first language and gender On the other hand the use of accommodation strategies such as approximation interpretability discourse management and interpersonal control accommodation strategies occurs in many interactions The findings of the study support Giles and Powesland s 1978 Communication Accommodation Theory CAT that in interracial couples communication spouses tend to accommodate each other by using a range of accommodation strategies which include code switching How to Speak Malay - Malay Made Easy Translation Readers,2014-05-12 How to Learn Malay Malay Made Easy Ready for the source that will self teach you how to learn Malay One that is easy to follow keeps you interested and you retain actually learning how to speak and understand Malay Then this book is for you For a limited time only How to Speak Malay Malay Made Easy is being offered at the discounted price of 2 99 that is a discount of 25 percent off the regular sales price How to Speak Malay Malay Made EasyHow to Speak Malay offers readers the opportunity to learn Malay in a manner that is designed to be at your own pace Inside you ll find everything you need to know to learn Malay we take you through the alphabet learn the different pronunciations learn the tenses learn the grammar and lessons that will not only have you learning Malay but retaining what you read Welcome to How to Speak MalayLearning any new language is intimidating This is the reason we have created How to Learn Malay in a manner that is learning and study friendly offering a strong foundation of the language to understand and speak Malay What Is Inside the Book How to Learn Malay is an excellent Malay language learning guide for students travelers and every person who would like to learn and speak Malay naturally We provide the fundamentals to learn understand and speak Malay in a challenge free manner Inside you ll find 1 Introduction2 Alphabet and Pronunciation Alphabet Special phonetics Malay diphthongs3 Grammar Prefixes Suffixes Circumfixes4 Verb Nouns Verbs Adjectives5 Preposition6 Form Address Male Female7 Person Pronoun First Person Single Plural Second Person Single Plural Third Person Single Plural8 Number9 Series10 Useful Words General Directions Getting Directions At the Restaurant Food and Drinks Time Days Week Month Year Season Weather Taxi Hotel Reservation Animal Holiday and Wishes Farewell Emergency Other Useful Words 11 QuestioningWelcome to How to Learn Malay and enjoy the journey into a new language Speak Malay Edward S. King,1960 Creoles, their Substrates, and Language Typology Claire Lefebvre,2011-02-17 Since creole languages draw their properties from both their substrate and superstrate sources the typological classification of creoles has long been a major issue for creolists typologists and linguists in general Several contradictory proposals have been put forward in the literature For example creole languages typologically pair with their superstrate languages Chaudenson 2003 with their substrate languages Lefebvre 1998 or even creole languages are alike Bickerton 1984 such that they constitute a definable typological class McWhorter 1998 This book contains 25 chapters bearing on detailed comparisons of some 30 creoles and their substrate languages As the substrate languages of these creoles are typologically different the detailed investigation of substrate features in the creoles leads to a particular answer to the question of how creoles should be classified typologically The bulk of the data show that creoles reproduce the typological features of their substrate languages This argues that creoles cannot be claimed to constitute a definable typological class
