Abstract: This study aimed to know the use of the interculture-based language learning (IBLL) model to improve learners' speaking skills integrated with linguistic awareness and their responses to learning experiences. A mixed-method study was employed, employing the concurrent embedded design, to investigate the learning processes associated with the IBLL model in enhancing speaking skills. The data consisted of qualitative and quantitative data. The qualitative data were collected using observation sheets and interviews, while the qualitative data were attained using tests. The finding showed that the IBLL model

Personal and Public Speaking Donald William Klopf, Ronald E. Cambra, 1983-01-01 Challenges in Teacher Education: Pedagogy, Management, and Materials Bafralı, Görsev, 2025-04-11 Educators encounter many unique challenges when teaching students who are learning English as a second or foreign language. These students may find mastering a new language daunting, resulting in speaking anxiety. In addition to managing their lesson plans, schedules, and school social interactions, teachers may need to assist students with stress management. By including teaching strategies grounded in cognitive and metacognitive abilities, as well as problem solving, in teacher education, new teachers may improve their ability to navigate challenges faced in the classroom. Challenges in Teacher Education: Pedagogy, Management, and Materials explores the impact of different strategies to enhance teacher education, increasing problem solving skills and self-efficacy. It addresses challenges and strategies for teaching foreign language learners with cultural competence. Covering topics such as well-being interventions, educational technology, and global awareness, this book is an excellent resource for teachers, school administrators, principals, researchers, professionals, academicians, and more.

INQUIRIES INTO EDUCATION: COMPLEXITY, CHANGE, AND THE CONTEMPORARY CONDITION PROF. DR. MUHLİSE COŞGUN ÖGEYİK, Assoc.

Prof. Dr. Kutay Uzun, 2025-08-25 The world of education is continuously changing, a complex and dynamic environment where old ideas meet new challenges. This book, Inquiries into Education: Complexity, Change, and the Contemporary Condition, is a collection of research that deals with some of the most important issues in education today. The chapters explore a variety of topics, from the subtle details of language learning to the effect of technology on education and the need for inclusive teaching practices. The studies in this volume work together to help us understand and navigate these complex topics. The focal point of some of the studies is second language acquisition, exploring its theories and practical implications. They investigate the strategies that help future teachers improve their speaking skills and examine the relationship between linguistic complexity and writing quality in L2 English. Furthermore, less obvious issues such as organizational silence among foreign language teachers and the key role feedback plays in developing pedagogical content knowledge are also addressed. The volume also takes on bigger themes within the scope of education. The role of artificial intelligence in the development of L2 English speaking skills and how mindfulness can create a more centered and effective learning experience are also discussed. In addition, important social issues such as how preschool teacher candidates feel about inclusive education and refugee students and how functional language is used in a 12th grade English textbook are also examined. Each chapter is its own investigation, but together they form a conversation about the current issues in education. They ask questions regarding how we should react to change and how we can handle complexity without feeling overwhelmed. The answers are not simple, but they are encouraging. They suggest that through careful research and thoughtful teaching, we can continue to build a better, fairer, and more humane educational environment. We are grateful to the authors for their meticulous work, which
