The Origins of the Civilization of Angkor volume 2

Charles Higham, 2007-10-10 Noen U Loke and Non Muang Kao are two large moated prehistoric settlements in Nakhon Ratchasima Province Northeast Thailand. Excavations in 1997-8 revealed a cultural sequence that began in the late Bronze Age followed by four mortuary phases covering the Iron Age. This report describes the palaeoenvironment, excavation chronology and material culture: human remains and social structure of the prehistoric inhabitants of these two sites. It is the second volume reporting on the research programme The Origins of the Civilization of Angkor.    Tomb Robberies at the End of the New Kingdom Valentina Gasperini, 2018-06-21 At the end of the 19th century W M F Petrie excavated a series of assemblages at the New Kingdom Fayum site of Gurob. These deposits known in the Egyptological literature as Burnt Groups were composed by several and varied materials mainly Egyptian and imported pottery, faience, stone and wood vessels, jewellery all deliberately burnt and buried in the harem palace area of the settlement. Since their discovery these deposits have been considered peculiar and unparalleled. Many scholars were challenged by them and different theories were formulated to explain these enigmatic Burnt Groups. The materials excavated from these assemblages are now curated at several Museum collections across England: Ashmolean Museum, British Museum, Manchester Museum and Petrie Museum. For the first time since their discovery this book presents these materials all together. Gasperini has studied and visually analysed all the items. This research sheds new light on the chronology of deposition of these assemblages; additionally a new interpretation of their nature, primary deposition and function is presented in the conclusive chapter. The current study also gives new information on the abandonment of the Gurob settlement and adds new social perspective on a crucial phase of the ancient Egyptian history: the transition between the late New Kingdom and the early Third Intermediate Period. Beside the traditional archaeological sources, literary evidence, The Great Tomb Robberies Papyri is taken into account to formulate a new theory on the deposition of these assemblages.    A Port in Arabia Between Rome and the Indian Ocean, 3rd C.BC-5th C.AD Alessandra Avanzini, 2008    The Origins of the Civilization of Angkor: The excavation of Noen U-Loke and
