The Christian Church as Social Process William Norman Pittenger, 1971
Norman Pittenger, 2017-05-03 One of the most important movements in recent philosophy and theology is the process thought associated with the name Alfred North Whitehead the distinguished Cambridge thinker who died in 1947 In North America this conceptuality is increasingly being used by Christian theologians for the restatement of Christian faith worship and practice The present book is the first attempt by a British theologian to apply this kind of thinking to the interpretation of the church itself In an earlier book The Last Things in a Process Perspective Dr Pittenger interpreted death judgement heaven and hell in this new way Now he turns to the church its nature its purpose its ministry its concern for the world its interest in social issues and seeks to show how the Christian fellowship is a social process in which the Love which is God and which was incarnate in Jesus is continuing to work in the affairs of men through the community which took to Jesus as its Lord and Master Process thought is at last receiving its due recognition in Britain In this book the reader will find an application of that conceptuality to the institution which all too often has been looked upon as wooden and static The contention of the author is that the church rightly understood is a dynamic living vital and forward looking fellowship He believes that acceptance of this truth will revitalize the discipleship of Christians and will attract and interest those who hitherto have dismissed the church as an outworn and dead establishment

Conversion as a Social Process Ulrich Luig, 2021-06-04 Conversion as a Social Process presents a detailed and multi faceted account of the genesis of an African mission church in Southern Zambia Its main theme is the transformation of European missionary Christianity into an important medium for Africans to negotiate creatively the challenges of the modern world The first part of this case study scrutinizes the contextual conditions and the consequences of the translation process of the European missionary message into the forms of African culture and modes of thought The second part analyses the developments of post colonial and post missionary African Christianity in a rural setting It argues that Christian ethics and world view offer new means of self identification in a complex world Drawing on local oral sources archival material and ethnographic literature the book represents a new genre of intercultural Church history

The Secret Society System Edwin Edgerton Aiken,2024-04-08 Reprint of the original first published in 1882 Social and Cultural Dynamics Pitirim Sorokin,2017-09-29 This classic work is a revised and abridged version in a single volume of the work which more than any other catapulted Pitirim Sorokin into being one of the most famed figures of twentieth century sociology Its original publication occurred before World War II This revised version written some twenty years later reflects a postwar environment Earlier than most Sorokin took the consequences of the breakdown of colonialism into account in discussing the renaissance of the great cultures of African and Asian civilization Other than perhaps F S C Northrop no individual better incorporated the new role of the Indian Chinese Japanese and Arabic peoples in this postwar world Sorokin came to view social and cultural dynamics in terms of three major processes a major shift of mankind s creative center from Europe to the Pacific a progressive disintegration of the sensate culture and finally the first blush of the emergence and growth of a new idealistic sociocultural order This volume is perhaps most famous for revealing Sorokin s remarkable efforts to understand the relationship of war and peace to the process of social and political change Contrary to received wisdom he shows that the magnitude and depth of war grows in periods of social cultural and territorial expansion by the nation In short war is just as often a function of development as it is of social decay This long unavailable volume remains one of the major touchstones by which we can judge efforts to create an international social science There are few areas of social or cultural life that are not covered from painting art and music to the ethos of universalism and particularism These are terms which Sorokin introduced into the literature long before the rise of functional doctrines For all those interested in cultural and historical processes this volume provides the essence of Sorokin's remarkably prescient effort to achieve sociological transcendence by taking      Annual Meeting of the Bar Association of the State of Kansas Bar Association of the State of Kansas, 1891 List of members in each volume except 1887 and 1889      The Church of All Ages.
