Student Mental Health and Wellbeing in Higher Education Nicola Barden,Ruth Caleb,2019-08-26 Good mental health is essential for students to manage the challenges that university life presents This book offers pragmatic guidance to support academic and student services staff in engaging with this critical issue both in terms of being proactive within their role to promote a positive approach to wellbeing and understanding how to care appropriately for students who may not be flourishing in the university environment Key topics include The pressure points and transitions of student life The crucial role of departmental and academic staff How to make mental health policies work The legal obligations and limits of student support Creating the conditions for confident support

Mental Health Awareness Laquita D. Wright, This book boldly confronts the reality of black brown mental pain head on There is a systematic and racist belief that black brown people can deal with and ignore pain better than any other race Speaking from experience in the minority communities of America there is a negative stigma surrounding mental health Instead of seeking professional help for conditions such as ptsd depression and anxiety many resorts to self medication drug opioids alcohol etc or isolation in an attempt to solve their problem on their own Black brown people are reluctant to discuss mental health issues and seek treatment because of the shame and stigma still associated with such conditions in our communities As a black person it is not easy expressing emotional pain because we are told not to show those emotions I am approaching it both from community education and cultural competency Laquita D Wright knows that black brown people are hurting She knows because she is one of them Mental Health Awareness Black Brown Pain shed lights on the need to improve access to mental health treatment within the underrepresented communities For many centuries Indigenous people of color have experienced trauma in all aspect of our lives This book is a must read and a guide to finding relief through mental help

Culture, Diversity and Health in Australia Tinashe Dune,Kim McLeod,Robyn Williams,2021-05-30 Australia is increasingly recognised as a multicultural and diverse society Nationally all accrediting bodies for allied health nursing midwifery and medical professions require tertiary educated students to be culturally safe with regards to cultural and social diversity This text drawing on experts from a range of disciplines including public health nursing and sociology shows how the theory and practice of cultural safety can inform effective health care practices with all kinds of diverse populations Part 1 explores key themes and concepts including social determinants of health and cultural models of health and health care There is a particular focus on how different models of health including the biomedical and Indigenous perspectives intersect in Australia today Part 2 looks at culturally safe health care practice focusing on principles and practice as well as policy and advocacy The authors consider the practices that can be most effective including meaningful communication skills and cultural responsiveness Part 3 examines the practice issues in working with diverse populations including Indigenous Australians Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Australians Australians with disabilities Australians of diverse sexual orientation and gender identity and ageing Australians Part 4 combines all learnings from Parts 1-3 into practical learning activities, assessments and feedback for learners engaging with this textbook. Culture, Diversity and Health in Australia is a sensitive, richly nuanced and comprehensive guide to effective health practice in Australia today and is a key reference text for either undergraduate or postgraduate students studying health care. It will also be of interest to professional health care practitioners and policy administrators.

Mothers at the Margins Jenny Jones, Marie Porter, Lisa Raith, 2015-06-18. In the last two decades maternal scholarship has grown exponentially. Despite this, however, there are still numerous areas which remain under-researched, one of which is the experiences of marginalised mothers. Far from being a sentimental feel-good account of mothering, this collection speaks with the voices of mothers through the application of a matricentric lens. In particular, it speaks with the voices of those mothers who feel alienated or stigmatised, mothers who have been rendered
