The Chosen Place The Timeless People:

The Chosen Place, the Timeless People Paule Marshall, 1969 Fiction The chosen place is Bourneville a remote devastated part of a Caribbean island the timeless people are its inhabitants black poor inextricably linked to their past enslavement The advance team for an ambitious American research project arrives and the tense ambivalent relationships that evolve between natives and foreigners blacks and whites have and have nots keenly dramatize the vicissitudes of power

A Human Necklace Moira Ferguson, 2013-12-02 From Brown Girl Brownstones 1959 to The Fisher King 2000 Paule Marshall's novels novellas and short stories include a rich cast of unforgettable men women and children who forge spiritual as well as emotional and geographical paths toward their ancestors In this the first critical study to address all of Marshall's fiction Moira Ferguson argues that Marshall's work collectively constitutes a multigenerational saga of the African diaspora across centuries and continents In creating a space for her characters interrupted lives and those of their elders and ancestors Ferguson argues Marshall trains a spotlight on slavery's wake and engages her fiction in the service of healing deep global wounds in the late 1960s women's studies scholars worked to introduce courses on the history literature and philosophies of women. While these initial efforts were rather general, women's studies programs have started to give increasing amounts of attention to the special concerns of women of color. The topic itself is politically charged and there is growing awareness that the issues facing women of color are diverse and complex. Expert contributors offer chapters on the major concerns facing women of color in the modern world, particularly in the United States and Latin America. Each chapter treats one or more groups of women who have been underrepresented in women's studies scholarship or have had their experiences misinterpreted, including African Americans, Latina Americans, Asian Americans, and Native Americans. Women of Color includes chapters on theories related to race, gender, and identity. One section provides discussions of literature by women of color, including works by such authors as Toni Morrison and Maxine Hong Kingston. The book also focuses on the place of women of color in higher education, including chapters on women of color and the women's studies curriculum and the role of librarians in shaping women's studies programs.
