The Millennial Harbinger Alexander Campbell, Charles Louis Loos, 1848 The Millennial Harbinger ..., 1848 Faith of the Ages Richard N. Rhoades, 2012-11-20 For centuries most Christians have believed that Jesus was a fair skinned blue eyed Gentile and that because the New Testament was written in Greek the study of its Greek roots should take priority over the study of the Hebrew Scriptures In recent decades those conceptions have begun to change Jewish and Christian scholars have engaged together in examining the Jewishness of Jesus the Hebrew origins of Christianity and the Hebraic origins of Scripture with renewed interest In Faith of the Ages author Richard Rhoades explores the Jewishness of Jesus the first century community of believers and when where how and why early Christian leaders rejected those Hebraic origins Faith of the Ages investigates the origins of the Christian Church and looks at the anti Semitism of the Greek and Latin Church fathers the Roman Emperor Constantine Roman Catholic Church authorities and leaders of the Reformation who all played a major role in moving Christianity away from its Hebraic roots Rhoades also examines passages of Scripture that Catholic and Protestant translators have changed by adding to and subtracting from certain words found in the ancient Greek manuscripts Simply stated Faith of the Ages answers questions about the Jewishness of Jesus the first century community of believers the Hebraic roots of the Christian faith and its rich Hebrew heritage and provides a compelling historical and biblical impetus for believers to reexamine their Christian faith Bulletin of Bibliography & Magazine Notes, 1897 Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks, Volume 4 Søren Kierkegaard, 2011-07-25 For over a century the Danish thinker Søren Kierkegaard 1813-55 has been at the center of a number of important discussions concerning not only philosophy and theology but also more recently fields such as social thought psychology and contemporary aesthetics especially literary theory Despite his relatively short life Kierkegaard was an extraordinarily prolific writer as attested to by the 26 volume Princeton University Press edition of all of his published writings But Kierkegaard left behind nearly as much unpublished writing most of which consists of what are called his journals and notebooks Kierkegaard has long been recognized as one of history's great journal keepers but only rather small portions of his journals and notebooks are what we usually understand by the term diaries By far the greater part of Kierkegaard's journals and notebooks consists of reflections on a myriad of subjects philosophical religious political personal Studying his journals and notebooks takes us into his workshop where we can see his entire universe of thought We can witness the genesis of his published works to be sure but we can also see whole galaxies of concepts new insights and fragments large and small of partially or almost entirely completed but unpublished works Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks enables us to see the thinker in dialogue with his times and with himself Volume 4 of this 11 volume series includes the first five of Kierkegaard's well known NB journals which contain in addition to a great many reflections on his own life a wealth of thoughts on theological matters as well as on Kierkegaard's times including political developments and the daily press Kierkegaard wrote his journals in a two column format one for his initial entries and the second for the extensive marginal comments that he added later This edition of the journals reproduces this format includes several photographs of original manuscript pages and contains extensive scholarly commentary on the various entries and on the history of the manuscripts being reproduced
