The Private Sector and Organized Crime Yuliya Zabyelina, Kimberley L. Thachuk, 2022-09-02 This book contributes to the literature on organized crime by providing a detailed account of the various nuances of what happens when criminal organizations misuse or penetrate legitimate businesses. It advances the existing scholarship on attacks, infiltration and capture of legal businesses by organized crime and sheds light on the important role the private sector can play to fight back. It considers a range of industries from bars and restaurants to labour intensive enterprises such as construction and waste management to sectors susceptible to illicit activities including transportation, wholesale and retail trade and businesses controlled by fragmented legislation such as gambling. Organized criminal groups capitalize on legitimate businesses beleaguered by economic downturns, government regulations, natural disasters, societal conflict and the COVID 19 pandemic. To survive, some private companies have even become the willing partners of criminal organizations. Thus the relationships between licit businesses and organized crime are highly varied and can range from victimization of businesses to willing collusion and even exploitation of organized crime by the private sector, albeit with arrangements that typically allow plausible deniability. In other words, these relationships are highly diverse and create a complex reality which is the focus of the articles presented here. This book will appeal to students, academics and policy practitioners with an interest in organized crime. It will also provide important supplementary reading for undergraduate and graduate courses on topics such as transnational security issues, transnational organized crime, international criminal justice, criminal finance, non-state actors, international affairs, comparative politics and economics and business courses.

Planning Commission. Perspective Planning Division,1981      How the Private Sector Develops Skills: Lessons from Turkey United Nations Development Programme Istanbul International Center for Private Sector in Development (UNDP IICPSD),2015-03-01 Despite its vital role in development to increase access to sustainable income skills training has been experiencing severe problems worldwide such as lack of physical legal and educational infrastructure absence of a win win based cooperation between the private sector and vocational education and training agencies as well as matters of financing The state and development agencies on their own are limited in their capacity to tackle these problems It is difficult to close the gap between the supply of labour and the demands of the market which exacerbates the exclusion of the base of the pyramid from the economy especially in a globalizing world where the technological requirements are changing rapidly Private sector on the other hand has significant potential to address the deficiencies in skills development and bridge the gap between what the labour force has to offer and what the industry demands The companies can contribute to the skills training process which in turn can provide the required skilled employees for the market and offer employment opportunities particularly to the disadvantaged Private sector will not only help to improve national competitiveness and realize an increase in its profitability due to the availability of a better trained staff but also improve the inclusiveness of the market The publication is intended to be a first step towards generating knowledge on the role of private sector in skills generation for increased inclusiveness and employability It includes several case studies from Turkey in which the private sector has created significant added value through private sector led or PPP models of skills design and delivery It elaborates on the lessons learned from these cases to pave the way for further action and research on how business actors can contribute to skills development especially for the disadvantaged The publication will lead to further research products and reports and eventually toolkits on how to mobilize and engage the private sector in skills generation for better development results Workshops will be organized for the private sector governments and other relevant stakeholders based on these toolkits to facilitate knowledge sharing and encourage innovation      The Modern Review Ramananda Chatterjee,1959 Includes
