The Politics of Experience and The Bird of Paradise R. D. Security, Emancipation and the Politics of Health Joao Nunes, 2013-10-01 This book develops a new theoretical framework for the study of security issues and applies this to the case of health Building on the work of the Welsh School of Security Studies and drawing on contributions from the wider critical security literature the book provides an emancipatory perspective on the health security nexus one which simultaneously teases out its underlying political assumptions assesses its political effects and identifies potential for transformation Security Emancipation and the Politics of Health challenges conventional wisdom in the field of health and international politics by conceiving of health as a fundamentally political issue and not merely as a medical problem demanding technical solutions and arrangements The book shows how political processes of representation underpin notions of health and disease through an examination of three key areas the linkages between immigration and the fear of disease colonial medicine and the health as a bridge for peace literature In order to successfully carry out this political investigation of health the book develops an innovative theoretical framework inspired by the idea of security as emancipation which goes beyond the existing emancipatory literature in security studies This book will be of much interest to students of critical security studies health politics sociology and IR in general

Deconstruction Dr Carolyn D'Cruz,2012-10-01 Identity politics dominates the organisation of liberation movements today This is the case whether fighting over one s birthright to a nation such as in the Palestinian Israeli conflict lobbying for civil rights such as in gay and lesbian campaigns for marriage or struggling for citizenry recognition as currently experienced by asylum seekers In this book Carolyn D Cruz investigates the nexus between what David Birch describes as the seemingly impossible of high theory and the seemingly accessible possibilities of popular discourse as encountered in liberation movements based on identity D Cruz reworks the logic of such movements through the unique combination of Derridean deconstruction Foucauldian discourse and Levinasian ethics Moving both within and between the domains of philosophy politics and postmodern culture this book offers both a clear explication of complex philosophical issues and an understanding of how they relate to the political practicalities of everyday life
