The Howards Go Sledding:

The Laments George Hagen, 2004-06-15 Meet the Laments the affably dysfunctional globetrotting family at the center of George Hagen's exuberant debut novel Howard is an engineer who dreams of irrigating the Sahara and lives by the motto Laments move His wife Julia is a fiery spirit who must balance her husband's oddly peripatetic nature with unexpected aspirations of her own And Will is the waif with a paper thin heart who is given to Howard and Julia in return for their own child who has been lost in a bizarre maternity ward mishap As Will makes his way from infancy to manhood in a family that careens from continent to continent one wonders where the Laments will ever belong In Bahrain Howard takes a job with an oil company and young Will makes his first friend But in short order he is wrenched off to another land his mother's complicated friendship with the American siren Trixie Howitzer causing the family to bolt In Northern Rhodesia during its last days as a white colony the twin enfants terribles Marcus and Julius are born and Will falls for the gardener's daughter a girl so vain that she admires her image in the lid of a biscuit tin But soon the family's life is upturned again this time by their neighbor Major Buck Quinn with his suburban tirades against black self rule Envisioning a more civilized life on the sceptered isle the Laments board an ocean liner bound for England Alas poor Will is greeted by the tribal ferocity of his schoolmates and a society fixated on the Blitz No sooner has he succumbed to British pop culture in the guise of mop top Sally Byrd and her stacks of 45s than the Laments uproot themselves once again and it's off to New Jersey where life deals crisis and opportunity in equal measure Undeniably eccentric the Laments are also universal Every family moves on in life Children grow up things are left behind there is always something to lament Through the Lament's restlessness responses to adversity and especially their unwieldy love for one another George Hagen gives us a portrait of every family that is funny tragic and improbably true

Nasha Bil Hoga, He Who Walks Alone Mike Wyant, 2013-02-22 An eleven year old Navajo boy is taken by force from his Arizona reservation home and bussed to Fort Sill Indian School near Lawton and Fort Sill Oklahoma in 1949 The U S law requires the Navajo children to attend school in a federally operated boarding school The boy is treated roughly at his capture and on the bus trip He vows to escape from the school and walk run back the eight hundred miles back to his home realizing he has no money and does not trust the white man He is forced to rely on his survival skills He makes several friends at the school However in the spring he leaves at night and starts his journey home The challenges he faces at the school and also his journey and how he overcomes those challenges are detailed When he finally reaches his home area he hears crying from several people and creeps through the sagebrush to see what is happening The same government agents who seized him are trying to wrestle an eight year old girl from her mother and grandmother and put her on the bus But while that happens the boy slips unnoticed on to the bus and invites all the children to follow him and he will hide and protect them until the agents have gone and stopped looking for them Twenty one of the children come with him and he hikes for two days covering his trails until he reaches an old unknown cliff dwelling that he and his family had stayed at many times It is well hidden For close to a year the children survive in the cliff dwelling learning Indian skills from the boy and school skills from a twelve year old girl Meanwhile a large political battle takes place for many months and finally the law is changed so the Navajo children can stay on the reservation to learn the white mans ways and education When all the papers have been signed by the Congress and the president the childrens group is able to return home A large dinner is planned by the tribal council for their return At this dinner the boy Jeff White Cloud has his name formally changed by the tribal leaders to Nasha Bi Hoga He Who Walks Alone Catalog of Copyright Entries.
