Sky Paintings:

Computational Approaches in the Transfer of Aesthetic Values from Paintings to Photographs Xiaoyan Zhang, Martin Constable, Kap Luk Chan, Jinze Yu, Wang Junyan, 2017-07-18 This book examines paintings using a computational and quantitative approach. Specifically, it compares paintings to photographs, addressing the strengths and limitations of both. Particular aesthetic practices are examined, such as the vista foreground to background organisation and the depth planes. These are analysed using a range of computational approaches, and clear observations are made. New generations of image capture devices, such as Google goggles and the light field camera, promise a future in which the formal attributes of a photograph are made available for editing to a degree that has hitherto been the exclusive territory of painting. In this sense, paintings and photographs are converging, and it therefore seems an opportune time to study the comparisons between them. In this context, the book includes cutting edge work examining how some of the aesthetic attributes of a painting can be transferred to a photograph using the latest computational approaches. Art, Technology and Nature Dr Jacob Wamberg, Dr Camilla Skovbjerg Paldam, 2015-09-28 Are art and technology coming into a closer relationship with nature? Through a selection of innovative readings by international scholars, this book argues that since 1900 we have experienced a renewed negotiation of the convergent triangle of art, technology, and nature, analysing its shifting constellations in post-medieval times. Through this negotiation, art becomes truly complementary to technology in understanding nature's agencies and may gain an important role in adjusting technology's present utilitarian hegemony.

The Annotated Mona Lisa Carol Strickland, John Boswell, 2007-10 Like music, art is a universal language. Although looking at works of art is a pleasurable enough experience, to appreciate them fully requires certain skills and knowledge. Carol Strickland, from the introduction to The Annotated Mona Lisa: A Crash Course in Art History from Prehistoric to Post Modern. This heavily illustrated crash course in art history is revised and updated. This second edition of Carol Strickland's The Annotated Mona Lisa: A Crash Course in Art History from Prehistoric to Post Modern offers an illustrated tutorial of prehistoric to post-modern art, from cave paintings to video art, installations to digital and Internet media. Featuring succinct page-length essays, instructive sidebars, and more than 300 photographs, The Annotated Mona Lisa: A Crash Course in Art History from Prehistoric to Post Modern takes art history out of the realm of dreary textbooks, demystifies jargon, and theory, and makes art accessible even at a cursory reading. From Stonehenge to the Guggenheim and from Holbein to Warhol, more than 25,000 years of art is distilled into five sections covering a little more than 200 pages. John Constable's Skies John E. Thornes, John Constable, 1999-01-01 John Constable is arguably the most accomplished painter of English skies and weather of all time. For Constable, the sky was the keynote, the standard of scale, and the chief organ of sentiment in a landscape painting. But how far did he understand the workings of the forces of nature which created his favourite cumulus clouds portrayed in so many of his skies over the landscapes of Hampstead Heath, Salisbury, and Suffolk? And were the skies he painted scientifically accurate In this lucid and accessible study John Thornes provides a meteorological framework for reading the skies of landscape art compares Constable's skies to those produced by other artists from the middle ages to the nineteenth century analyses Constable's own meteorological understanding and examines the development of his painted skies In so doing he provides fresh evidence to identify the year of painting of some of Constable's previously undated cloud studies Essence of Orissan Paintings Dinanath Pathy,2001 Light, Water and Sky Gianni Caffiero,Ivan Samarine,2013-05-07 Following the success in 2000 of Seas Cities and Dreams the authors return with a second volume on the works of this remarkable 19th century master who raised European maritime painting to a new level A towering figure in his day he shot to international fame at an early age His exhibitions drew enormous crowds from all over the world and earned him the admiration of Vernet and Turner He was elected a member of five European academies and was personally acquainted with most of the crowned heads of his day Throughout his long and colorful career Aivazovsky claimed to have painted over 6 000 pictures The authors the foremost experts on the artist have gathered the material for this book from public and private collections worldwide The large number of paintings illustrated offer a significant addition to the published corpus of Aivazovsky's oeuvre Their chronological arrangement makes this book an invaluable resource for scholars collectors and Aivazovsky's many admirers Critical Mass Mead Art Museum (Amherst College),2003 Description Puts New Jersey at the center of key art movements during the sixties *The Works of John Ruskin: Modern painters.-v.5-6.
