were necessary while justifying the tendency of the author to transform the railway station into a private place for expressing his character's personal desires. The bond of human relationships emphasizes Bond's understanding of the human mentality, nature, thoughts, and behaviour. Bond's stories display human feelings like affection, care, kind-heartedness, insecurities, sorrow, and disgust. As his art is often referred to as autobiographical, his characters are real and we can find them in our neighbourhood. The incomparable way in which he alters the unexciting, dull things in our everybody life into something really striking and interesting fascinate not only the common reader but also the literary world. Travelling and communication with masses is equally important for humanity, which makes one socially upgraded and sometimes may give birth to inventive artists like Ruskin Bond. The wheel of God, by George Egerton Mary Chavelita Bright, 1898
