Shields and Judith E Smith Intersecting Aesthetics Literary Adaptations and Cinematic Representations of Blackness illuminates cultural and material trends that shaped Black film adaptations during the twentieth century Contributors to this collection reveal how Black literary and filmic texts are sites of negotiation between dominant and resistant perspectives

Their work ultimately explores the effects racial perspectives have on film adaptations and how race inflected cultural norms have influenced studio and independent film depictions Several chapters analyze how self censorship and industry censorship affect Black writing and the adaptations of Black stories in early to mid twentieth century America Using archival material contributors demonstrate the ways commercial obstacles have led Black writers and white dominated studios to mask Black experiences Other chapters document instances in which Black writers and directors navigate cultural norms and material realities to realize their visions in literary works independent films and studio productions Through uncovering patterns in
