the first Baha i school was established in Tehran By the 1930s there were dozens of Baha i schools Their high standards of education drew many non Baha i students from all sections of society Here Soli Shahvar assesses these forgotten schools and investigates why they proved so popular not only with Baha is but Zoroastrians Jews and especially Muslims Shahvar explains why they were closed by the reformist Reza Shah in the late 1930s and the subsequent fragility of the Baha is position in Iran

The Forgotten Fifties John Murphy, Judith Smart, 1997 Some of Australia s leading historians present new perspectives on social and cultural life in the 1950s The 1950s is usually treated in the popular media as a metaphor for an Australia that was complacent monocultural banal and domesticated On the other hand historical writing about the decade has long been dominated by accounts of political and foreign policy conflict the Labor Split the Cold War and the seemingly endless long summer of Robert Menzies This collection assembles some of Australia s leading historians to present new perspectives on the 1950s Focusing on social and cultural themes they reveal a decade full of contradictions which belie the common simplistic accounts of the time Ranging from the education of the young Barry Humphries to the idea of an Australian identity in the lead up to the 1956 Olympics these essays also include the personal recollections of three leading historians providing a lively and critical insight into the Australia of the period Drawing out themes such as style sexuality modernism the suburbs travel writing and immigrant assimilation the authors excavate the experience of everyday life and the attitudes that characterised the 1950s They present a past that despite having shaped our lives continues to be disputed in contemporary Australia
