The Master Teacher: Developing a Christ-based Philosophy of Education Brian C. Nixon, 2007 Written as a primer for Christian schools, Sunday schools, and church-sponsored education groups, The Master Teacher discusses the Biblical base for developing a philosophy of education. Focusing on the foundation, framework, and fruit of a Christ-based model, The Master Teacher discusses such topics as: The Biblical philosophy of education; Jesus as student, Jesus as teacher; Heart, soul, and mind frameworks; Paideia, the training of a child; The fruit of educational endeavors; The role of the Holy Spirit in education; The attributes of God in relation to education. The Master Teacher is a wonderful introduction for teachers, administrators, and pastors interested in the primary role of developing a Christ-based philosophy of education.

The Christian Story and the Christian School John Bolt, 1993 According to many observers, education is in a state of crisis. There is a crisis of declining academic standards, a literacy crisis, a moral value crisis, a crisis in behavior and discipline, a racial crisis, a funding crisis, and a teacher crisis. Within this context, what is the role of Christian schools and how do they accomplish their purpose? In this book, John Bolt develops a philosophy of Christian education based on a narrative approach. After addressing critical questions about contemporary education, the book examines some of the dominant themes in contemporary culture, identifying the consequences of individualism, secularism, pluralism, and paganism. The study goes on to explore several Christian threats to Christian education: indoctrination, evangelism, prophecy, and excellence. Additional chapters look carefully at the Christian mind and at the rediscovery of narrative. Back cover
