FROM A DRAWING BY OWEN JONES

The Great Exhibitions

Geoffrey Cantor

The Great Exhibitions:

The Great Exhibitions John Allwood, Ted Allan, 2001 The Great Exhibition John R. Davis, 1999 The Great Exhibition of 1851 was the world's first international exposition of manufactured goods, inventions, works of art and artefacts from many cultures. A showcase of British manufacturing supremacy and an educational extravaganza, a lesson to foreigners and a deep source of public fascination, the Exhibition was closely connected with Queen Victoria's consort Prince Albert, who put much effort into having it sited in Hyde Park against stiff opposition. Protesters feared the disappearance of the park under tons of bricks and mortar, but when the great structure was eventually chosen and built, it silenced dissenters and became the most famous new building in the world. The Great Exhibition, 1851 Jonathon Shears, 2017-05-31 The Great Exhibition 1851 A Sourcebook is the first anthology of its kind. It presents a comprehensive array of carefully selected primary documents sourced from the period before, during and after the Exhibition in Hyde Park in 1851. Drawing on contemporary newspapers and periodicals, the archives of the Royal Commission, diaries, journals, celebratory poems and essays, many of these documents are reproduced in their entirety and in the same place for the first time. The book provides an unparalleled resource for teachers and students of the Exhibition and a starting point for researchers new to the subject. Subdivided into six chapters—Origins and organisation, Display, Nation, empire and ethnicity, Gender, Class and Afterlives—it represents the current scholarly debates about the Exhibition, orientating readers with helpful, critically informed introductions. What was the Great Exhibition and what did it mean? Readers of The Great Exhibition 1851 A Sourcebook will take great pleasure in finding out. The Great Exhibition of 1851 Louise Purbrick, 2001 The Great Exhibition of 1851 has become a touchstone for the nineteenth century. The Crystal Palace produced a commodity world, an imperial spectacle, a picture of capitalism, a liberal dream, a vision of modern life. Historians have saturated the Great Exhibition with meanings. This collection of essays exposes how meaning has been produced around the Great Exhibition. It contains a series of critical readings of the official and popular historical record of the Exhibition. Critics and historians of art, culture, design and literature have been brought together to examine the objects, the images, the documents and the fictions of 1851. Their essays explore the determined use of industrial knowledge, the contested definitions of nation and colony, and the actual control of the space of the Crystal Palace after the Great Exhibition closed. The Great Exhibition of 1851 presents new interpretations of one of the most significant exhibitions in the nineteenth century and will be essential reading for anyone studying cultural history, design history, art history and literature. The Great Exhibition, 1851 Yvonne Ffrench, 1950 The Great Exhibition G. N. Cantor, 2013 The Great Exhibition of 1851 was the outstanding public event of the Victorian era. Housed in Joseph Paxton's glass and iron Crystal Palace, it presented a vast array of objects, technologies and works of art from around the world. The first industrial exhibition of international scope, contemporary commentators attributed much wider significance to it. Prince Albert in particular argued that the Great Exhibition would bring nations together in a spirit of friendly rivalry following the social upheavals of the previous decade But the Great Exhibition s role and long term influence is far from clear cut did it encourage free trade or risk giving foreign competitors an advantage Did it celebrate the achievements of the workers or give more power to industrialists and factory owners Was it ungodly even blasphemous or did it promote Christianity across the British Empire The Great Exhibition: Guides to the exhibition and other material addressed to visitors. Visitors' accounts G. N.
