Soweto The Fruit Of Fear:

Soweto Peter Magubane,1986 Photography in and out of Africa Kylie Thomas,Louise Green,2018-02-02 This book offers a range of perspectives on photography in Africa bringing research on South African photography into conversation with work from several other places on the continent including Angola the DRC Kenya Mali Morocco Nigeria Ethiopia and Eritrea The collection engages with the history of photography and its role in colonial regulatory regimes with social documentary photography and practices of self representation and with the place of portraits in the production of subjectivities as well as contemporary and experimental photographic practices Through detailed analyses of particular photographs and photographic archives the chapters in this book trace how photographs have been used both to affirm colonial worldviews and to disrupt and critique such forms of power This book was originally published as a special issue of Social Dynamics Apartheid on a Black Isle D. Curry,2012-10-31 In this single square mile hemmed in by White areas residents engaged in what is arguably the most multi faceted inventive and versatile strategy of resistance during the 1970s Apartheid on a Black Isle brings to the fore the definitive but underappreciated role that Alexandra played in advancing human rights Using their manufactured space Alexandrans revolutionized the South African freedom struggle by fertilizing the underground movement by joining in solidarity with Soweto during the student uprising and by finding unique ways to grieve This book explores and introduces ordinary Alexandrans whose narratives challenged preconceived notions of resistance identity gender and space When Whites Riot Sheila Smith McKoy,2012-11 In a bold work that cuts across racial ethnic cultural and national boundaries Sheila Smith McKoy reveals how race colors the idea of violence in the United States and in South Africa two countries inevitably and inextricably linked by the central role of skin color in personal and national identity Although race riots are usually seen as black events in both the United States and South Africa they have played a significant role in shaping the concept of whiteness and white power in both nations This emerges clearly from Smith McKoy s examination of four riots that demonstrate the relationship between the two nations and the apartheid practices that have historically defined them North Carolina s Wilmington Race Riot of 1898 the Soweto Uprising of 1976 the Los Angeles Rebellion in 1992 and the pre election riot in Mmabatho Bhoputhatswana in 1994 Pursuing these events through narratives media reports and film Smith McKoy shows how white racial violence has been disguised by race riots in the political and power structures of both the United States and South Africa The first transnational study to probe the abiding inclination to blacken riots When Whites Riot unravels the connection between racial violence both the white and the raced in the United States and South Africa as well as the social dynamics that this connection sustains Soweto Peter Magubane,1999 It was in Soweto that the uprising took place in 1976 signalling the beginning of the end of apartheid This text showcases some of Peter Magubane s finest photographs taken over almost 50 years The book covers the town s development and continues to today showing its poverty colour and art The reader is taken through the creation of Soweto in the 50 s and it s bloody uprising in the 70 s The main body illustrates the people of Soweto going about their daily lives working and playing celebrating and grieving Joint Acquisitions List of Africana ,1988 Africa Today ,1988

Writers, Writing on Conflicts and Wars in Africa Okey Ndibe,Chenjerai Hove,2009 Many African countries are caught up in perennial or recurrent political conflicts that often culminate in devastating wars. These flaring conflicts and wars create harrowing economic hardships, dire refugee problems and sustain a sense of despair in such countries. By their nature these conflicts and wars affect writers in profound and sometimes paradoxical ways. On the one hand literature whether fiction, poetry, drama or even memoirs is animated by conflict. On the other hand the sense of dislocation as well as the humanitarian crises unleashed by wars and other kinds of conflicts also constitute grave impediments to artistic exploration and literary expression. Writers and artists are frequently in the frontline of resistance to the kinds of injustices and abuses that precipitate wars and conflicts. Consequently they are often detained, exiled and even killed either by agents of state terror or by one faction or another in the tussle for state control. Writers Writing Conflicts and Wars in Africa is a collection of testimonies by various writers and scholars who have experienced or explored the continent's conflicts and woes including how the disruptions shape artistic and literary production. The book is divided into two broad categories in one several writers speak directly and with rich anecdotal details about the impact wars and conflicts have had in the formation of their experience and work in the second a number of scholars articulate how particular writers have assimilated the horrors of wars and conflicts in their literary creations. The result is an invaluable harvest of reflections and perspectives that open the window into an essential but until now sadly unexplored facet of the cultural and political experience of African writers. The broad scope of this collection covering Darfur, the Congolese crisis, Biafra, Zimbabwe, South Africa among others is complemented by a certain buoyancy of spirit that runs through most of the essays and anecdotes.

Okey Ndibe teaches fiction and literature at Trinity College in Hartford, Connecticut. He has also taught at Connecticut College in New London, Connecticut, as well as Simon's Rock College in Great Barrington, Massachusetts. He was for one year on the editorial board of the Hartford Courant and from 2001-2002 was a Fulbright professor at the University of Lagos, Nigeria. Chenjerai Hove is an award winning Zimbabwean novelist, poet, essayist and journalist whose work has been translated into numerous languages. Educated in Zimbabwe and South Africa, Hove's publications include the novels Bones (winner of the prestigious Noma Award), Baobab Books, Harare and Heinemann, England, 1988; Shadows, Baobab and Heinemann, 1988; and Ancestors, Macmillan, Picador, England, 1996, such poetry collections as Up In Arms, Zimbabwe Publishing House, 1982; Blind Moon, Weaver Press, Harare, 2003, and Red Hills of Home, Mambo Press, Gweru, 1984. He is also the author of the collection of essays Shebeen Tales, Baobab Books, Harare, and Serif, London, 1994. Hove, who has published several volumes in his indigenous language of Shona, has worked as a columnist, translator, editor and lecturer in Zimbabwe and numerous other countries. Currently on exile in Norway, he has lived and taught in Kenya, the Netherlands, Germany, England, Switzerland, France and the United States. He recently completed the translation of Shakespeare's King Lear into Shona. The Nation, 1986-07. The Bloomsbury Review, 1987. Has also occasional unnumbered supplements.
