Spalliera Paintings of Renaissance Tuscany Anne B. Barriault, 1994 Spalliera Paintings of Renaissance Tuscany defines and characterizes cycles of panel paintings that decorated patrician residences in Tuscany It takes a fresh approach to the paintings placing them not only in the context of Renaissance art but also in the context of the society for which they were made It contributes to our understanding of the formal conventions of the pictures as narrative paintings designed to be seen in specific spaces within bedchambers and studies their function integrated with the woodwork and furniture of those spaces and their social role often commissioned in honor of weddings to reinforce values of patrimony civic mindedness and familial duty Spalliera painting flourished between 1470 and 1520 with artists such as Botticelli Ghirlandaio Piero di Cosimo Pontormo and Andrea del Sarto translating the histories poems and tales of Livy Ovid Petrarch and Boccaccio among others into colorful didactic sequences that demonstrate ancient and exemplary standards of conduct An analysis of the typologies of the heroes and heroines in these paintings and the meanings that their stories may have had for the patrons who commissioned them also sheds light on social mores expectations and issues of gender in the patrician society of Renaissance Tuscany Art and Love in Renaissance Italy Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), Kimbell Art Museum, 2008 Many famous artworks of the Italian Renaissance were made to celebrate love marriage and family They were the pinnacles of a tradition dating from early in the era of commemorating betrothals marriages and the birth of children by commissioning extraordinary objects maiolica glassware jewels textiles paintings that were often also exchanged as gifts This volume is the first comprehensive survey of artworks arising from Renaissance rituals of love and marriage and makes a major contribution to our understanding of Renaissance art in its broader cultural context The impressive range of works gathered in these pages extends from birth trays painted in the early fifteenth century to large canvases on mythological themes that Titian painted in the mid 1500s Each work of art would have been recognized by contemporary viewers for its prescribed function within the private domestic domain BOOK JACKET Sacred Narratives Lucrezia Tornabuoni de' Medici, 2007-11-01 The most prominent woman in Renaissance Florence Lucrezia Tornabuoni de' Medici 1425-1482 lived during her city's golden age Wife of Piero de' Medici and mother of Lorenzo the Magnificent Tornabuoni exerted considerable influence on Florence's political and social affairs She was also as this volume illustrates a gifted and prolific poet This is the first major collection in any language of her extensive body of religious poems Ranging from gentle lyrics on the Nativity to moving dialogues between a crucified Christ and the weeping sinner who kneels before him the nine laudi poems of praise included here are among the few such poems known to have been written by a woman Tornabuoni's five storie sacre narrative poems based on the lives of biblical figures three of whom Judith Susanna and Esther are Old Testament heroines are virtually unique in their range and expressiveness Together with Jane Tylus's substantial introduction these poems offer us both a fascinating portrait of a highly educated and creative woman and a lively sense of cultural and social life in Renaissance Florence Old

Women and Art in the Early Modern Italian Domestic Interior Professor Erin J Campbell, 2015-07-28 Drawing on a wide range of visual and historical sources this study examines the remarkable flowering largely overlooked in portraiture scholarship of portraits of old women in Northern Italy and especially Bologna during the second half of the sixteenth century Erin Campbell argues that these images of unidentified women provide an opportunity to present new conceptual frameworks and question our assumptions about old age portraiture and the domestic interior Culture and Change

Margaret Lael Mikesell, Adele F. Seeff, 2003 These issues of city building and institutional change involved more than the familiar push and pull of interest groups or battles between bosses reformers immigrants and natives Revell explores the ways in which technical values a distinctive civic culture of expertise helped to reshape ideas of community generate new centers of public authority and change the physical landscape of New York City Jacket Image and Word Antonella

Braida, 2017-12-02 What was the role of images in the Western tradition And how did they relate to the printed work The essays in this wide ranging collection address these questions by presenting a variety of material including visual representations that can be read as texts and traditional book illustrations The editors offer a critical review of visual arts and texts encompassing thirteenth century Spanish miniatures Italian Renaissance painting and book illustrations the explosion of inter arts comparisons in the nineteenth century in the works of such diverse writers as Blake Mallarmé and D Annunzio and the modern debate on the visual arts The Early Modern Italian Domestic Interior, 1400-1700 Erin J.

Campbell, Stephanie R. Miller, Elizabeth Carroll Consavari, 2016-03-23 Emphasizing on the one hand the reconstruction of the material culture of specific residences and on the other the way in which particular domestic objects reflect shape and mediate family values and relationships within the home this volume offers a distinct contribution to research on the early modern Italian domestic interior Though the essays mainly take an art historical approach the book is interdisciplinary in that it considers the social implications of domestic objects for family members of different genders age and rank as well as for visitors to the home By adopting a broad chronological framework that encompasses both Renaissance and Baroque Italy and by expanding the regional scope beyond Florence and Venice to include domestic interiors from less studied centers such as Urbino Ferrara and Bologna this collection offers genuinely new perspectives on the home in early modern Italy

The Hunt in the Forest by Paolo Uccello Catherine Whistler, Paolo Uccello, 2001 A masterpiece of the early Renaissance Paolo Uccello's 1397 1475 Hunt in the Forest is a magical and enigmatic picture The painting clearly belongs to the last decade of Uccello's career and stylistic comparisons with the narrative scenes that he painted in the late 1460s in Urbino suggest that The Hunt must date from soon after that Uccello's lifelong interest in geometry and perspective together with his skill in depicting animals and landscape combine in this swansong a jewel like painting designed to please a sophisticated audience The Hunt in the Forest is a rare and tantalising survivor of a particular type of secular painting A spalliera painting from spalla meaning shoulder it would have been set into the panelling of a room at shoulder height Scenes from ancient history and mythology or from medieval romance were common in spalliera paintings and many have come down to us. However, the fact that a hunting scene with figures in contemporary dress is elaborately and playfully depicted by a major artist makes this panel virtually unique in Florentine domestic painting of the fifteenth century. Clearly the patron who ordered this picture was a discerning one familiar with Uccello's distinctive artistic talents. The painting has been in the collection of the Ashmolean Museum since 1850.

Sandro Botticelli and Herbert Horne Rab Hatfield, 2009-08. This volume contains the texts of six papers delivered by internationally renowned scholars during a three-day conference held in Florence in October 2008 in celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the publication of Horne's celebrated monograph on Botticelli. The first paper by Caroline Elam is the keynote lecture she gave at Villa I Tatti about Horne's remarkable personality and career. Another by Jonathan Nelson poses the equally fundamental question of what constitutes authorship in certain works in the production of which Botticelli was only partly involved. Scholar Antonella Francini presents a poem she just discovered by Herbert Horne about a portrait by Botticelli in London. Together, these essays deepen our understanding of this celebrated early Renaissance painter.
