Co-Creation Tobias Redlich, Manuel Moritz, Jens P. Wulfsberg, 2018-11-19 Across several industries we are observing a paradigm shift from traditional firm centric and top down value creation to more open and collaborative approaches also referred to as bottom up economics. The boundaries of firms dissolve and external actors customers, user, suppliers, etc. enter the domain of value creation by means of advanced information and communication technologies. These new and evolving patterns require a renewed and interdisciplinary understanding of how co creation enables organizations to reshape business and society. With contributions from industrial and academic experts this book provides deep insights into the theory and practice of bottom up economics and addresses the major opportunities and challenges that have emerged in the era of co creation. A must read for decision makers looking to innovate their companies business models from ideation to marketing. Dr. Ing. Michaela Colla K. GXI Leader Industry 4.0 at Volkswagen. Simply put co creation is the future of work. With technology morphing the way we work and young people wanting to tackle problems that matter co creation is the sandbox where the world can come together to solve big challenges. Paul C. Nutt, 1998    Healing with Art and Soul Kathy Luethje, 2009 This fascinating collection of essays contains a variety of perspectives about the use of expressive arts for facilitating physical and emotional healing. Each author within brings a fresh approach and unique experiences to their writing. Within these pages you will find many ideas for the use of the arts and can learn how to engage the inner layers of the self that allow natural healing processes of the body and soul to flourish. When we fully engage an art modality we find ourselves in a place in our consciousness that could be called healingspace where we feel ourselves whole and remember ourselves as well. From psychic trauma to physical illness, disease of many kinds may be addressed through the various techniques discussed here. The tools offered by some authors are population specific and age appropriate while several authors have given us the philosophical underpinnings for it all. While the authors within represent the grassroots voices of this new and rapidly expanding field several of them have developed their own methods for using the arts and have thriving practices. Our approach is wholistic. Music, visual arts, movement, dance and poetry are discussed as separate modalities and in combination with one another in a process or flow. The reader will engage in our experiences with these modalities as they have been lived. The complementary CD that accompanies this book will allow the listener to have a full sound experience of toning. If a rationale is needed for establishing arts programs in medical centers or other health facilities it can be found here. The book offers tools for self development and for group facilitation. Those wanting to expand their healing practice through the use of the arts will find the book to be a faithful guide. Anyone wishing for a fuller understanding of how the arts may work to facilitate healing will find much food for thought within these pages.
