The English Zechstein And Related Topics:

The English Zechstein and Related Topics Gill M. Harwood, Denys Barker Smith, 1986 Marine Permian of England D.B. Smith, 2013-03-07 This book is concerned almost wholly with a diverse suite of carbonate rocks that were formed near the margins of shallow tropical seas during the last 5-7 million years of the Permian period 300-251 Ma. These unique rocks collectively known as the Magnesian Limestone have been studied for more than 160 years and the names of some of the early workers Geinitz, Murchison, Phillips, Sedgwick, Sorby would grace any geological hall of fame. Despite this formidable assault and the efforts of a host of later workers the Magnesian Limestone still retains many of its secrets. Permian marine rocks crop out on both sides of the Pennines but those of the Zechstein Sea to the east are by far the thicker and more varied and in these lie all but one of the sites selected for special protection. Detailed accounts of the rocks in 26 such sites form about half of this book and the normal and special features of these sites are compared, contrasted and placed in their mutual context in the remainder of the book. The sites were selected according to a range of criteria including uniqueness, representativeness, historical importance and suitability for teaching purposes and research. Most are inland quarries but a few are in the unrivalled coastal cliffs of classical County Durham where the main difficulty lies in deciding what not to select.

Palaeozoic Climate Cycles A. Gąsiewicz, M. Słowakiewicz, 2014-02-03 This volume presents results of a variety of case studies documenting the Late Palaeozoic climate changes and cyclicity of deposition. The collected papers cover many aspects related to palaeoenvironmental analysis with sedimentological, stratigraphic, palaeobiological, geochemical and palaeomagnetic studies of the fossil record around the Late Palaeozoic Ice Age and soon after. They span a stratigraphic interval from Carboniferous to Permian-Triassic transition around the world. This book comprising results for a range of disciplines is a valuable source for not only researchers who are actively working on specific aspects of the Late Palaeozoic and looking for an up-to-date reference on this inhospitable time in the Earth's history. It is also of interest to climate modellers and the wider scientific community with an interest in the latest research on the decline of the Palaeozoic World.

Cross Border Themes in Petroleum Geology I: The North Sea S. Patruno, S. G. Archer, D. Chiarella, J. A. Howell, C. A.-L. Jackson, H. Kombrink, 2022 A cross border approach to exploration appraisal and development is important in mature basins such as the North Sea where the low hanging fruit have long gone. This approach emphasizes the need to see the basin as one geological entity in order to maximize economic recovery and prepare the area for the energy transition. This volume offers an up-to-date geology without borders view of the stratigraphy, sedimentology, tectonics and oil and gas exploration trends of the entire North Sea basin along with the challenges associated with differences in data continuity and nomenclature across median lines. This volume includes overviews of cross border play statistics, lithostratigraphic naming conventions and exploration performance through to new facies models for cross border areas. As such this volume will be a valuable reference for every geoscientist working in the North Sea for years to come. Stratigraphy and Sedimentology
